U. S. Must Enter Court, Hoover Tells D. A. R.

TO DEFEND SELF,
BUT SEEK PEACE

Says Kellogg Pact, Naval Parley and Root Formula Are Guide Posts on Road to Peace.

National President of D.
A. R. Says "No More Amendments" Is To Be Rule; Upholds Dry Law.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—Fuller American co-operation toward world peace without dishonor and without sacrifice of independence was urged by President Hoover tonight before the organization which has as its purpose the protection and perpetuation of American tradition.

Addressing the 6,000 delegates to the 39th annual congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the chief executive pointed to the World Court, the London naval conference and the Kellogg-Brand pact as sequent steps toward international peace.

His expression of confidence that the United States would sometime enter the World Court; his affirmation that "there is a price which no nation can afford to pay for peace"; his insistence that our "security today is well assured by an army and navy whose high tradition in valor and skill is represented in both the command and rank and we shall maintain them," as well as his declaration that the naval conference has provided naval parity, reduction in armament and strengthened the forces of peace, were greeted with ringing applause.

Praises Navy Parley.

The naval conference, he said, provided actual reduction in armament and strengthened the forces of peace. "It is an accomplishment that has great material advantages to all its participants," he told the Daughters of the American Revolution, in a speech of welcome at the opening of their 39th annual congress. "But I prefer to have it judged on the far higher grounds of its contribution to the moral and spiritual welfare of our people and the world."

The chief executive expressed confidence that the United States would become a member of the World Court upon the solution of contentions over special stipulations under which the country should participate.

He reminded the audience that through the Kellogg-Brand pact this nation "solemnly pledged ourselves not only to renounce war but to seek means for pacific settlement of all international differences."

"I do not put this duty to you upon a basis of self-interest," the president said, "although it is inevitable that the failure of civilization in any part of the world at once brings distress within our own doors. I have no occasion to dwell upon the horrors and degradation of war."

No Glory in War.

"Those who really know war," he continued, "never glorify it. I have seen too much of the tragic sufferings of men, women and children, of the black shadows that ever run on the heels of war, to wish to recall those scenes. I hope never to see them again. I know this nation can help to make war impossible and that it should so help."

There are few persons who do not agree, Mr. Hoover said, as to the desirability and necessity of such a court as the World Court as an addition to the methods of pacific settlements.

"The contentions on this question rest upon the details of special stipulations under which we should join," Mr. Hoover said. "It is not my purpose to go into these contentions here. I have no doubt they can be solved and that the United States should be a member of the court."

Regarding the London naval conference, the chief executive said that until there has been brought about an actual reduction "in the armament of three nations of about 25 per cent less than the standards discussed during the conference which failed at Geneva three years ago and a reduction of about 12 per cent below present naval programs as rapidly as the present ships become obsolete."

"But most important of all," Mr. Hoover asserted, "it has been able finally to turn the tide of constantly increasing naval arms and to end the arms race."

PLAN ANNOUNCED FOR DRY SURVEY

Edward Kennedy Tells of National Program Directed From Atlanta.

Plans for an intensive and non-partisan survey of America to obtain an unbiased expression on the prohibition question, the survey to be administered from a headquarters located in Atlanta, were announced by Edward Kennedy, of the National Prohibition Survey Monday night.

Thirty-two million questionnaires will be mailed to the qualified voters who participated in the 1928 general election from the headquarters of the survey, which has been established in the Rhodes-Haverty building, it was announced.

Plans for the local office include provision for an executive staff and a corps of typists, a large number of whom will be employed over a period of five months.

Expenses of the campaign, the initial expenses of which are said to have been underwritten by a group of financiers, will be met by public subscription and contributions from those interested in a betterment of present day conditions.

Results of the survey will be made public, after certification by certified public accountants, for educational purposes and for the use of legislatures and others interested.

Governors Give Aid.

Mr. Kennedy announced that the national advisory committee included Governor Bilbo, of Mississippi; Governor Parnell, of Arkansas; Governor Simpson, of Kentucky; Governor Hammel, of Iowa, and Mrs. Anna Wilds Strunquist, of New Mexico, who represents Governor Dillon of her state, Mr. Kennedy announced.

Further announcements of the organization are to be made within the next few days, Mr. Kennedy said. With Lewis K. Moore, Jr., of New York city, who is representing financial interests backing the organization, he is now in Atlanta laying preliminary plans.

Active work is expected to begin within the next ten days.

Plans of the organization, he announced, include establishment of 20 branch headquarters in various parts of the United States. Principal headquarters, however, will be located in Atlanta.

During the summer months plans are to employ a large staff of college students who by personal contact will complete the survey by direct contact with those whose ballots are not returned by mail.

The organization pledges itself that neither in the course of its campaign nor later will it align itself with either side of the prohibition controversy. Its sole purpose will be the collection of data concerning the question.

The questionnaire which will be mailed out contains 15 questions, all relating intimately to various phases of the prohibition question.

Questions to Be Asked.

1.—Is prohibition a success?
2.—Has it contributed to moral and economic welfare?
3.—Do you favor repeal of the 18th amendment?
4.—Is prohibition enforcement a success?
5.—Do you approve the present form of enforcement?
6.—Should violators be classed as felons for the first offense?
7.—Would jail sentences exclusively aid enforcement?
8.—Do you favor government regulation?
9.—Do you favor modification to permit sale of light wine and beer?
10.—Do you favor more stringent laws?
11.—Would you approve a national referendum after a presidential election?
12.—Do you believe in state's rights on the liquor question?
13.—In the event of modification, should the government supervise the manufacture of alcoholic beverages?
14.—Do you authorize your name to be attached to a petition to congress requesting the repeal of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act?

2.—Do you believe in state's rights on the liquor question?
3.—In the event of modification, should the government supervise the manufacture of alcoholic beverages?
4.—Do you authorize your name to be attached to a petition to congress requesting the repeal of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act?

NEW CITY HALL COST DEFENDED BY MCDUTCHEON

Charges That Atlanta Paid $500,000 More Than Structure Was Worth Called "Ridiculous."

While technical advisers of Solicitor-General John A. Boykin's staff launched an extensive investigation into the cost of construction of Atlanta's new city hall, Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, for two years chairman of the special city hall committee of council, branded as "utterly ridiculous" charges that the structure cost $500,000 more than it should have, and thus joined John A. McDonald, president of the National Construction Company, builders, in a defense of the project.

Mr. McCutcheon went into a detailed discussion of the building and its costs, declaring that the building cost alone was 52 cents a cubic foot for the 1,650,500 cubic feet but that when extras, architects' fees, etc., were added, the cost was 62 cents a cubic foot or 8 cents a cubic foot below the estimate of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers.

Mr. Boykin Monday night declined to comment on denials of the charge that the building costs were $500,000 in excess of its worth, stating simply that he is relying on the report of the technical staff.

Earlier in the day, Mr. McDonald issued a statement in which he declared that the city hall work was done in accordance with specifications and the contract awarded to the city by the new city hall building committee, which was headed by Carroll Griffin, of the Griffin Construction Company, Monday afternoon took the first steps in a voluntary survey of the building work which is to be conducted for the grand jury at the request of Solicitor Boykin.

McCutcheon's Statement.

Mr. McCutcheon's statement follows: "The statement was made in The Atlanta Constitution as having come from Solicitor Boykin, on April 14, that the new city hall had cost the city of Atlanta half a million dollars more than it should have. While I do not wish to engage in any controversy, I am compelled to state that the city hall cost was about $850,000, exclusive of extras."

California-to-France Flight Announced

RICHMOND, Va., April 14.—(AP)—George P. Hutchinson, 24, of Baltimore and formerly of Richmond, tonight announced plans for a "Lone Eagle" flight from California to Paris via Richmond and New York under sponsorship of a group of Richmond businessmen.

President's Official Toss Opens Another Campaign

BY RALPH MCGILL.

President Herbert Hoover, with a rare old presidential courage, walked out on a 4-to-3 ball game at the nation's capital Monday afternoon.

He left in the eighth and Red Sox hung on to their one-run lead and defeated the president's home town in the first game of the glad new year.

He was a guest of honor, along with various of his aides, at the first major league baseball game of the season, Washington vs. Boston, in the American league, All 16 teams in the two major leagues go into action today.

Most of the minor leagues swing into step with the majors today. The old, old jam is on; the old, old game is back for the annual six months of box scores, pennants and pennants. The Washington affair Monday was a little previous, as the boys say.

The president inaugurated the season Monday by throwing out the first ball. The first baseball of the year is much surer harbinger of spring than the first robin. Especially if pitched by the president.

At the games today lesser dignitaries, such as mayors, governors, high sheriffs and actresses, will pitch the first ball, wearing the pitcher's cap at a rakish angle.

All the balls will be wild and in each and every park some wit will shout, "Sign him up!"

The game will be on. It remains the national game in spite of golf, in spite of miniature golf courses, in spite of fishing, hiking, radio and victrola records with exercises on them.

Every time the president goes out to toss out the first ball the promoters in other sports moan horribly with something near the death rattle in their throats.

If only President Hoover would give in the ring and take the first swing

Labor Government Raises British Tax

Romance Ends

Wealthy Are Hard Hit and All Brackets Feel Effect of Levy; Betting Tax Repealed.

LONDON, April 14.—(UN)—Today's increase in income tax will mean that a married Englishman who earns $5,000 a year will pay as his share of governmental expenses approximately $527.

An American of the same earning capacity pays a little more than 1 per cent of this amount—$5.02.

How It Works

In Actual Practice

LONDON, April 14.—(UN)—Great Britain must raise 784,145,000 pounds (approximately $3,920,725,000) to run her affairs next year, and the already heavy income tax must be increased to foot the bill, Philip Snowden told a crowded and expectant house of commons today.

Labor's crippled but dynamic little chancellor of the exchequer hobbled from the ministerial bench, faced his colleagues and handed them and the country a sensation by calmly announcing higher taxes. He had kept his counsel well and his pronouncement was an unpleasant shock, although not entirely a surprise.

Snowden's chief proposals for raising the national revenue needed were:

All Taxes Raised.

1. An increase in the standard income tax rate of sixpence in the pound making the rate 4 shillings, sixpence.

2. Higher inheritance taxes.

3. Introduction of a bill to provide a new basis for taxation on land values.

4. An increase in the government duty on beer of 3 shillings per barrel.

The increase in the income tax of 1-2 per cent makes the rate 22-1-2 per cent on incomes (under $10,000). Snowden moreover announced an increase in the surtax on larger incomes, which are already taxed on a sliding scale, which reaches an enormous amount on the higher scales. He ameliorated the increase, however, by announcing that he proposed a reduction of 2-1-2 shillings in the rate of the smallest incomes—those up to 250 pounds ($12,500) a year.

Former Sheriff Held For Murder

MAUSTON, Wis., April 14.—(AP)—Lynn T. Wright, 30, ousted two years ago as sheriff of Juneau county, tonight was held in the county jail over which he formerly presided, in connection with the assassination of District Attorney Clinton G. Price, fatally wounded in the kitchen of his home last night by slugs from a shotgun which burst through a screen door and into his body.

A trail of stains, described as blood by Sheriff Elmer Hempelman, from the driveway to the house led to the back of the Lemonweir river and in an abandoned boat found opposite the Price residence and leading almost to the back door of Wright's home, caused authorities to arrest the former sheriff shortly before Price died at 12:25 a. m.

Wright attempted to resist officers, who were compelled to use force in taking him to the county jail, where an examination revealed an artery of the middle finger of his right hand severed. He refused to tell what caused the injury.

A shotgun believed by the authorities to have been the one used in the shooting, was found in the river today not far from the abandoned boat.

A coroner's jury was impaneled this afternoon and after viewing the body adjourned until tomorrow.

Wright, formerly known as the "boy sheriff," was sentenced last Friday to eight months in jail on his plea of guilty to a federal prohibition conspiracy charge. He was the principal government witness against Price at the latter's recent trial on a similar charge. Price was acquitted.

Bootleg feuds and political differences have developed a bitter factional feeling which found its way into support or condemnation of Price or Wright in this county.

One theory was that Price, as a militant prosecutor, was slain in revenge for a series of raids or to prevent the fulfillment of his recent threat to "blow the lid off in Juneau county." Another was that Price was the "double-crosser" which he was pictured during his recent trial on the liquor law conspiracy charge, and was killed in retribution.

Price, it was learned, had been preparing his promised statement on conditions in the county. Ever since he raided a giant still near Kilbourn, Wis., friends said he had been receiving threatening letters. He laughed at them.

RAGSDALE WARNS MUNICIPAL HEADS OF MONEY CRISIS

Letter From Mayor Follows Announcement by West That City Will Meet Obligations May 1.

On the heels of an announcement by B. Graham West, city comptroller, that monthly payrolls already are prepared and that the borough will be ready to meet its obligations May 1, Mayor I. N. Ragdale Monday addressed letters to every department of the municipal government expressing "serious doubt as to whether we will be able to carry on the departments as at present."

The mayor's letters followed an announcement of the chief executive Saturday in which he expressed "apprehension as to whether every employee of the government will not be forced to stand a salary slash the latter part of this year to prevent running a treasury deficit."

Mr. Ragdale's declaration regarding the possible salary cut of every one of the employees followed a conference Saturday with Miss Allie Mann, president of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' Association, and W. J. Scott, a former president of that body, in which the teachers' representatives sought to ascertain whether any further appropriations could be expected from council for operation and maintenance of the schools.

The amount set up for the schools is about $500,000 short of the amount asked for by the board of education and school officials, and is inadequate to meet the actual payrolls of the department, it is said.

After telling Miss Mann and Mr. Scott that there could not be another supplementary allocation for the schools, the mayor expressed his doubt as to the ability of the borough to meet actual payrolls of other departments.

Mr. Ragdale in his communication cited his research into the financial condition of the borough by stating he has communicated with every authority, and issued an "appeal to you (department heads) to hold down the operation of your department to the lowest possible dollar, not spending any money where it is possible to get along without it."

Text of Letter.

Text of the mayor's letter follows: "From the information I have gained through the finance committee, the comptroller's office, tax assessors and marshal's office with regard to finances for the operation of the city for the balance of this year, I am in serious doubt as to whether we will be able to carry on the departments as at present."

"I think it is not out of place for me to call your attention to this matter at the present time and to appeal to you to hold down the operation of your department to the lowest possible dollar, not spending any money where it is possible to get along without it."

"I regret to make this appeal but think it better that you be advised now rather than later after our appropriations are spent. We must keep in possible the appropriations made and if possible operate at a saving."

Very truly,
(Signed) "I. N. Ragdale, Mayor."

JEFFERSON PAID HONORARY DINNER

Democratic Prospects Declared Brightest in Years by Justice Hines.

Present prospects for advancement of the democratic party were declared brighter than at any period in the history of the United States by Justice James K. Hines, of the Georgia supreme court, speaking before a gathering of the Young Men's Democratic League of Georgia honoring the birthday of Thomas Jefferson at the Henry Grady hotel Monday night.

Justice Hines was the last of three speakers at the dinner who saw the triumph of the democratic party written in events now taking place in congress and in the country at large.

The others were John S. Cohen, national state democratic committeeman, and Dr. Sam Small.

Mr. Cohen declared that he did not favor two white political bodies in the south. "The democratic party is the party of the south," he said. "We can never forget that it was the democratic party that saved the civilization of the south."

The speaker scored the present republican administration and called for a change of our resources on new armaments and preparation for another war.

SOLICITOR READY TO MATCH WITS AGAINST ARNOLD

Boykin and Staff Prepare to Combat Any Legal Stratagems of Well-Known Lawyer.

CLERK'S DEFENSE SILENT ON PLANS

Veteran City Official Charged With Bribery, Fraud, Extortion Will Face Jury Wednesday.

With members of the prosecuting staff prepared to match their wits against the stratagems of Reuben Arnold, the state late Monday announced it is ready for the trial of Walter C. Taylor, veteran city clerk, under indictment for bribery, fraud and extortion, which is to begin before a jury in Judge John D. Humphries' division of the Fulton superior court Wednesday morning.

After an all day conference participated in by Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, Special Prosecutor William Schley Howard and Assistant Solicitors Ed A. Stephens and J. Walter LeCraw, the prosecution let it be known that far greater apprehension is felt over the legal tactics Arnold, as Taylor's chief counsel, may employ and over his argument than over any testimony offered in behalf of the city clerk. When the indictments against Taylor were returned, Mr. Boykin declared that the grand jury had gone into scores of alleged misdeeds on the part of the clerk, but that true bills were asked and obtained only in those cases which he felt would withstand rigorous attacks on the part of the defense.

Beyond reiterating that he believed every count in the 16-count bribery bill, the nine-count extortion indictment and the single count fraud charge would "stand up," Mr. Boykin had no statement to make following the close of Monday's conference save to say that the state has all of its witnesses ready and anticipates no difficulty in getting its fact before the jury as speedily as is possible.

Though members of the prosecuting staff refused to be quoted on the matter, they made no effort to conceal that in clashing with Arnold they are meeting perhaps the strongest single factor to be encountered in any of the graft trials, and that if their witness are not unswerving on his cross-examination the chances for victory are excellent.

That the Taylor defense has abandoned any hope of oral trial may have held a change of venue or a continuance was indicated Monday when the defense subpoenaed as witnesses in Taylor's behalf, the members of the grand jury which returned the bribery

Offer Ends Saturday Night For Extra Credit and Gold

Constitution's Contest
Presents Best Opportunity To Candidates At This Time.

"Opportunity Week" in The Atlanta Constitution's great $25,000 prize campaign is moving on at a fast clip and five days remain in which to obtain 100,000 and 50,000 extra credits on $30 clubs of new subscriptions. If reports are credited, candidates are bending every energy to see that they receive the greatest benefit possible from this most liberal credit offer.

It is with good reason that candidates look upon this as "opportunity week." The opportunity to get 100,000 extra credits on every $30 club of new prepaid subscriptions and 50,000 extra credits on every $30 club of new contract subscriptions and to win part of $500 in gold will end at 9 p. m. April 19. Inasmuch as the regular credits are given on each subscription as usual, it does not take long to build up a good credit standing that will be a wonderful help in winning the $3,120 Pierce-Arrow sedan and $1,000 in gold, the $2,835 Franklin sedan and $500 in gold or one of the other 18 automobiles and 20 radios which will be given shortly after May 31.

Closes Saturday.
All new subscriptions to apply on the 100,000 and 50,000 extra credit offers, must be in the campaign office or placed in the mail by 9 p. m. Saturday, April 19. The privilege given of mailing subscriptions up to the closing hour of the offer, gives candidates in the outside territory the same amount of time to devote to the offer as city candidates.

With the close of the extra credit offer Saturday also comes the close of the $500 in gold, special prize offer. Five hundred dollars in gold will be given to the seven candidates turning in the highest amounts of new subscription business during the period starting March 26 and ending at 9 p. m. April 19.

With these facts in mind candidates all over the territory covered by The Constitution are sweeping ahead eagerly grasping the chance that beckons them to rapid strides in credit gathering.

Naturally the enthusiasm shown in the campaign is due to the immensity of the prize list to be awarded in a few weeks. It takes only credits to win and the balance of this week of fers a splendid opportunity to gain credit in great numbers.

The list of candidates will be published again Thursday and new entries to appear in this list will be accepted up to noon Wednesday. There is still plenty of time for any ambitious man or woman to enter and win. The campaign announcement elsewhere in this issue contains the entry blank that will start you in the race.

HARRIS' ROAD AID BILL WINS FAVOR

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(Special.)—The senate postoffice and post roads committee today ordered a favorable report on the bill by Senator W. J. Harris, of Georgia, authorizing an appropriation of $500,000 as the federal government's part of an expenditure necessary to reconstruct highways and bridges in Georgia which were injured by flood conditions of last year. Previously Secretary of Agriculture Hyde had approved the proposed expenditure on condition that the state of Georgia match the funds dollar for dollar the same as provided in regular federal aid highway appropriations.

Cost of the reconstruction work has been placed at $1,012,135 by officials of the state highway department of Georgia and by engineers of the United States bureau of public roads coming under the jurisdiction of the department of agriculture.

An identical bill to that of Senator Harris was offered at the same time in the lower house, where the committee on roads has also ordered a favorable report. Thus the legislation is approved by the proper committees of the house and senate which means that it will be passed without material opposition unless it develops that members from other states overload it by offering amendments seeking to extend the benefits.

The possibility of a situation of this kind developing is seen in an announcement last week by Senator Park Trammell, of Florida, that he would present a similar bill for his state. Still others may follow the lead and give rise to danger of the whole legislation being defeated, it is feared.

State Highway Board To Meet Here Friday

A special meeting of the state highway board has been called for Friday, it was announced Monday by J. W. Barnett, chairman of the board.

The chairman left at noon for Savannah, where today the entire board has been asked to meet with the Coastal highway board. Thursday a tour of south Georgia highways will start. The board will spend Thursday night in Macon, returning to Atlanta Friday.

Mr. Barnett did not state just what the problems were which would come before the board Friday, but indicated that they had to do with certain federal aid routes which need approval before bids can be solicited.

The meeting will not interfere with plans for another to be held April 22, when several contracts will be awarded. The chairman could not tell at present if it would bring changes in plans for another letting April 29.

Confederate Tag Day Workers Are Sought

A call for women volunteers to aid in the tag day sales that will be held Wednesday as a means of raising funds for defraying expenses of Confederate veterans to the general reunion at Biloxi in June was issued Monday by Mrs. A. O. Woodward, chairman of the finance committee for Atlanta Camp No. 159, United Confederate Veterans.

Those planning to aid in the Confederate tag day activities are requested to report at the campaign headquarters in the Mortgage Guarantee building, Rooms 814-815, where all necessary information will be furnished them, Mrs. Woodward said.

An unusually large attendance at the general reunion this year is expected due to its location at the old home place of Jefferson Davis, Mrs. Woodward explained. The reunion will continue for three days and is likely to be the last one held in Mississippi, it was stated.

SENATE OKAYS GEORGE NAVAL STORES BILL

Amendment To Farm Marketing Act Gives Products Farm Board Benefits.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(Special.)—Favorable action was taken by the senate today on an amendment to the federal farm marketing act giving naval stores and naval stores products equal benefits, along with other agricultural commodities, of operations of the federal farm board.

The amendment, sponsored by Senator Walter E. George, of Georgia, was adopted without a record vote. It had been urged by leaders in the naval stores industry of Georgia and other southern states to correct a discrimination which, the original farm board legislation was held to contain.

Before becoming effective the amendment must be passed by the lower house, where a similar measure, offered by Representative W. W. Larsen, of Georgia, is now pending.

Prior to the introduction of the proposal, Senator George sought to have the farm board construe the marketing act as embracing naval stores products—resin, turpentine and tar—within its scope, but the board ruled otherwise, although it was pointed out that products of other trees, such as maple syrup, were extended farm board benefits.

Final passage of the amendment will mean that the naval stores industry, which long has occupied a prominent place in southern commercial activities, will be subject to stabilization efforts the same as cotton, wheat and other agricultural commodities.

Kennamer Approved.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(P.)—Favorable reports to the senate were made today by its judiciary committee on the nominations of Charles B. Kennamer, to be district attorney for northern Alabama, and Tom W. Dutton, to be marshal for eastern Louisiana.

J. WALTON SIMMONS TAKES OFFICE TODAY

Successful Candidate for Post of Clerk of Court To Get Commission.

J. Walton Simmons, successful candidate in the special election of a clerk of superior court to succeed the late Thomas C. Miller, is expected to take office today following the action Monday of James M. George, defeated incumbent pro tem, in announcing that he would turn the office over to Mr. Simmons without a contest on the alleged disqualification of the latter.

In anticipation of his taking office, Mr. Simmons Monday afternoon addressed the present employees in the office, asking their co-operation in taking over the duties of the position. He offered to retain the employees temporarily until his own staff can be familiarized with the workings of the office.

Governor Hardman is expected to issue a commission to Mr. Simmons today. Results of the election were certified to the governor Thursday by Thomas H. Jeffries, county ordinary. As soon as he receives the commission Mr. Simmons will appear at the clerk's office and take over the duties of the position from Mr. George, he said. "I desire to make the change in employees gradually, in order that no inconvenience will be worked on the public," Mr. Simmons said. "For that reason I am asking the present employees to stay on at least temporarily in order that my staff may learn the duties of the office fully before taking charge of their respective posts."

Mr. George pointed out that Mr. Simmons received a plurality of 501 votes. "Prior to the election it was brought to my attention that he had not paid his state and county taxes for the years 1924 to 1929, inclusive, and I was advised by eminent counsel that this rendered Mr. Simmons legally ineligible for the office," Mr. George said. "I brought this to the attention of the voters, as I felt it my duty to do, but Mr. Simmons received 501 votes more than I, and I feel that in good faith I should surrender the office to him. It is therefore my purpose to turn the office over to him when he presents the proper credentials. In behalf of those on my ticket and myself I sincerely thank our friends for their loyal support and confidence."

Court Refuses To Quash Indictment Against Carver

Floridian Accused of 3 Murders Allowed To Make Bond of $15,000.

SEBRING, Fla., April 14.—(AP)—Shortly after granting a writ of habeas corpus and allowing bond of $15,000 to be posted, Circuit Judge W. J. Barker this afternoon denied a motion to quash indictments charging William Carver with murder of his son and a negro.

Immediately after Carver's release was ordered, W. D. Bell, defense counsel, filed and immediately began argument on motion to quash the three indictments against the defendant. In opposing the granting of the habeas corpus writ, Grady Burton, state attorney, contended that the state had developed a "chain of circumstances" sufficiently strong to warrant holding Carver in custody.

Burton introduced in evidence the hatchet which the state claims was used in the killings, and declared that Carver hacked his wife and small son, Lee, to death, and then shot and killed the negro servant, Ben Whitehead.

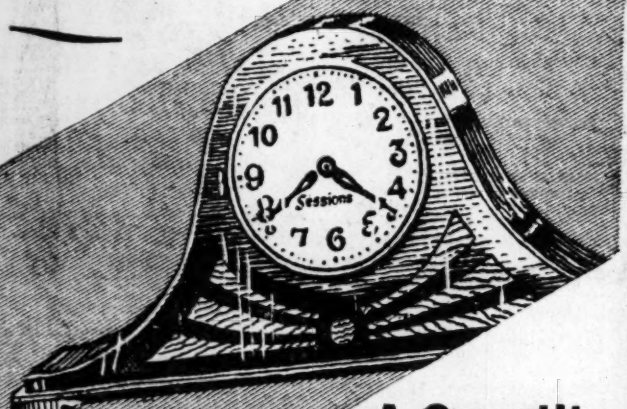

The date for the trial was fixed as May 12.

The defense asked for 30 days in which to bring character witnesses from other states. Carver formerly lived at Philadelphia. He moved here last December.

Carver pleaded not guilty to the charges. He first pleaded not guilty to slaying his wife and son and guilty to killing the negro, but changed his plea to include all three counts.

PROSECUTION READY FOR TAYLOR TRIAL

Indictments against him and also summoned into court the special investigators employed by Mr. Boykin's office in the conduct of the graft investigation.

At his offices in the Hurt building, Mr. Arnold had "nothing to say." His associate in the Taylor case, Samuel D. Hewlett, likewise refused to make any statement on the plans for the city clerk's defense.

"We will not speak on the case until we appear in court," Mr. Arnold said. "We won't even say whether we are ready for trial, though we do not say we are not. We just say nothing."

That Taylor will be called upon to answer the 16-count bribery indictment.

ment appeared certain Monday night when it was learned that most of the state's witnesses on this true bill had been summoned to appear at the solicitor general's office today for conference with Mr. Boykin and Special Prosecutor Howard. Mr. Boykin refused to confirm the general impression that this is the bill on which Taylor would be tried, however.

Boykin is ready. "The state is ready on all three indictments and we will have all our witnesses on the three cases in court Wednesday morning," the solicitor said. "We will make no announcement on the bill to be called until then."

The jury will be selected from a special panel of 75 names drawn Monday.

Preparations are being made to handle a capacity crowd daily. The trial is expected to last 10 days or longer, the state expecting to take at least three days for the presentation of its direct evidence. Sheriff James I. Lowry Monday assigned 10 deputies and bailiffs to Judge Humphries court where they will be under the direction of Chief Deputy J. J. Gordon Hardy.

The usual custom of permitting only those persons able to obtain seats in the courtroom will prevail Judge Humphries said Monday.

"When all the seats are filled the door guards will be instructed to let no one else in," the judge declared. "This is an important case and overcrowding of the courtroom certainly would work a hardship on the lawyers concerned and the court itself."

PROBE OF CITY HALL LAUNCHED BY JURY

DINNER OBSERVES JEFFERSON DAY

The Grundy tariff bill the most iniquitous ever passed.

Dr. Small saw in these, too, reason to believe that the democratic party, as the party of fundamental principles, would triumph in the next general elections.

He advised the young men of the democratic party to go back to the fundamentals taught by Jefferson. "When democracy has stood by them it has triumphed," he declared. He declared that the principles of Thomas Jefferson represented the hope of the world for salvation.

"I do not care if there are two white parties in the south, just so long as there is a democratic party," he declared. "The present trouble with the party is not that—but that so many men who call themselves democrats would not know one of Jefferson's precepts if they met it in the public road."

Hines Praises Jefferson.

Justice Hines, reviewing the life of Jefferson, declared that in his estimation he was the greatest citizen America has produced.

"As a man, citizen and statesman he was our greatest man," he said. "The only adjective that would describe him," he said "is 'colossal.' He was skilled in painting and the arts, was an author of genius, and in science had no equal in America. He was a profound student of the law, going deeply back into its fundamental reasons," he declared.

Justice Hines, speaking on Jefferson's advocacy of religious freedom, declared that one of the greatest of current problems was the relation of church and state. "I don't object to a preacher as an individual having political convictions, but I do oppose the right of any creed or denomination to undertake in mass to run our government. The preacher who is a politician might as well run down his flag as a savior of souls," he said.

Toussaint on present tendencies, he declared that democrats seeking tariffs on peanuts and beets were running far afield from Jefferson's principle. Jefferson called a tariff robbery, he declared.

"The purpose of a tariff is not for revenue, but for filling the pockets of a favored few with millions," he said. He declared that America is the most governed and the worst governed country in the world. Far greater individual freedom, he said, is given by the governments of England, Germany, and practically every other

The present practice in America which enables the United States supreme court to hold a law unconstitutional he held pernicious, stating that a three-fourths majority at the least should be required in such cases. Consolidation of power in Washington, if continued in, he said, will produce the greatest tyranny the world has ever known.

Governor Refrains From Vetoing Bill

JACKSON, Miss., April 14.—(AP)—Governor Bilbo today said that he purposely permitted the Stansel road bill to become law at midnight Saturday without his signature by holding it on his desk beyond the five-day period provided by law.

Under the provisions of the measure, the bond of construction of three past legislative sessions, an $88,000,000 road building program will be launched in Mississippi within three months under the supervision of a re-created state highway commission of three commissioners elected by the people from each of the supreme court districts. The bill automatically legitimated the office of the present eight-member elective body.

In a special message to the house, Governor Bilbo suggested that since he permitted the bill to become law a portion of the surplus convict labor be used in the manufacture of vitrified brick for the road building project.

Masons of 3 States Meet in Tallahassee

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 14.—(AP)—Members of the Masonic fraternity from Florida, Georgia and Alabama will meet here tomorrow to celebrate the centennial of the founding of the grand lodge of Florida Masonry.

A three-day session of the grand lodge will be interspersed by the unveiling of bronze and marble tablets on the temple of the local lodge commemorating organization of the Florida grand lodge. The unveiling will be done by a group of young Tallahassee girls and will be featured by an address by Lincoln Huley, president of Stetson University at Deland. The unveiling ceremony will take place Wednesday.

Georgia and Alabama Masons were invited to participate in the centennial observance because of the fact that the three original local lodges of Florida, those at Tallahassee, Quincy and Marianna, were formed from the Masonic organizations of those states and from the first three Florida lodges was formed the grand lodge. The Tallahassee lodge celebrated its centennial two years ago.

Handsomeness New Union Depot Opened to Public Friday

Atlantans Invited By President Hill To Visit and Inspect $600,000 Station.

The new Union depot on Forsyth street will be opened to the use of the public Friday morning, J. B. Hill, president of the N. C. & St. L. railroad, announced Monday from Nashville.

N. C. & St. L. train No. 3, which arrives here at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning, will be the first to bring passengers to the station. No formalities will be observed at the opening. It is understood, but President Hill expressed a cordial invitation to the public to visit and inspect the station. Officials of the United States Warehouse Company, which plans erection of a $3,000,000 building on the site of the old depot, had not been advised Monday as to when the old station property would be delivered to them. They are ready to begin work immediately they receive control of the property, it was said.

Due to the present condition of the Forsyth street viaduct that entrance to the station will be open only to pedestrians until after the completion of the new viaduct. Vehicles will approach the station by the Spring street entrance, President Hill said.

Mr. Hill in making the announcement called special attention to the beauty and convenience of the building. It is made of cut limestone, marble, and has a tile roof. The building alone represents an investment of about $250,000, while the entire property is valued at $600,000.

It includes among its facilities comfortable waiting rooms, a barber shop, soda fountain, luncheonette and telephone and telegraph connections. The building is at the first development of "air rights" above the downtown railroad tracks. It is supported on steel concrete piles, and the approaches to it are viaducts.

The Dixie Terminal building, the structure to be erected on the old depot site, will be another development of "air rights" above the state-owned railroad tracks.

Atlanta Women Ready For 'Clean-Up' Drive

Plans for the annual "clean-up," plant-up" campaign being sponsored by the women's division of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, have been completed and launched, it was announced Monday. This week has been designated as clean-up week, with the campaign being participated in by various civic organizations of the city.

Co-operation of the Atlanta public schools has been pledged by Superintendent Willis A. Sutton, it was reported. The superintendent urging that all school children take an active part in the work, carrying the clean-up campaign first into the homes and schools.

Plans have been made by Miss Hattie Rainwater for planting of trees, shrubs and flowers by the children to fit in with the campaign sponsored by the woman's division.

90 HOUSEWIVES GIVE RUMMAGE TO ARMY.

Ninety more Atlanta homes were listed as active participants in the city-wide clean-up campaign Monday when their mistresses phoned the Salvation Army, at Jackson 2224, for trucks to carry away the old paper, rags and other rummage cleared out in spring cleaning operations.

Ensign Hugo Bloomberg, officer in charge of the Salvation Army social service center, stated Monday night that the number was the largest that had been recorded in any one day this year. The average has been about 35 daily, he said, until last week, when it jumped to an average of 60 during the preliminary phase of the clean-up campaign.

Old paper and rags are sold to support the Salvation Army's welfare and evangelistic work among men who are "down but not out" and clothing which is suitable is used to supply needs of destitute families on the army's charity lists, Ensign Bloomberg explained.

Russian Fighting Deportation Order

Held in Fulton tower while immigration officials attempt to solve the problem presented by an order of deportation for which no passport can be obtained, Joseph Specteroff, or Yoseph Specteroff, a Russian, Monday filed in federal district court a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to effect his release. Specteroff was held by immigration authorities following his release from the federal prison, where he served a term on a bankruptcy law charge.

Specteroff's petition for habeas corpus points out that as the United States has no treaty with soviet Russia he cannot obtain a passport. He is represented by Attorney Frank A. Brown. The petition is returnable on Wednesday.

TAXPAYERS WARNED.

15,000 Fail To Return Property for 1930.

With some 15,000 Fulton county taxpayers yet to return their property for 1930, Edwin F. Johnson, county tax receiver, Monday issued a warning against delinquency. Returns are approximately 1,000 ahead of 1929. Forty-five thousand persons have made returns so far this year. Books will close on April 30, when preparation of the digest will begin.

HARDWICK MAY DEFEND 2 YOUNG COMMUNISTS

Former Governor Confers With Labor Defense League
on Powers, Carr Case.

Former Governor Thomas W. Hardwick, of Albany, may appear as chief of defense counsel in the trial scheduled to begin Monday in Fulton superior court of M. H. Powers and J. C. Carr, communist organizers, charged with the crime of "inciting an insurrection," which, under Georgia laws, makes them subject to the death penalty in the event of conviction.

Mr. Hardwick, who recently has been retained by the defense in the Gastonia, N. C., strike cases to appear before the North Carolina courts in arguing the appeal of seven defendants convicted of a conspiracy to kill the Gastonia police chief last summer, spent Monday in conference with Paul Pullman, national representative for the International Labor Defense, and O. C. Hancock, who represented Powers and Carr at their first hearing in recorder's court.

The young communists were held for city court then under bonds of $1,500 each, which they posted through a surety company. Subsequently the Fulton county grand jury returned the more serious indictments against them. Hancock and Pullman both said Monday that their clients would be here April 21 and that both are ready for trial.

Probable appearance of Mr. Hardwick in the case lent interest to it in court circles Monday. He recently was employed by the American Civil Liberties Union to appear before the North Carolina supreme court, to argue the question of whether or not the religious and political beliefs of the defendants would be a defense in the killing should have been admitted to the record.

METHODIST CHURCHES HOLD MANY REVIVALS

Meetings Going on in 25 Institutions in Atlanta, Ministers Learn.

BY THOMAS M. ELLIOTT.
According to reports submitted by the pastors at the Monday meeting of the Methodist Ministers' Association there are in progress at this time some 25 revival meetings among the Methodist churches of Atlanta, in which meetings the pastors themselves are doing their own preaching. All pastors reported unusually good attendance.

Final statements as to the number of new converts received into the churches will not be made until the various revivals come to a close with the Easter services next Sunday. Present indications, according to information given out Monday, are that most of the churches conducting revivals will receive large increase in membership in the immediate future. Dr. L. Russell, of the Druid Hills Methodist church, where Dr. W. A. Shelton, of Emory University, is doing the revival meeting preaching, related an interesting incident of the day before. A former teacher in the junior department of the Sunday school desired to have her baby baptized at the Sunday services. Her husband had never made any confession of religious faith. The lady's department in the Sunday school, representing her with a silver baptismal font, to be used in the ceremony for her infant. As the christening was concluded the child's father came forward, made confession of faith and asked to be baptized from the same silver font used for the child.

Dr. Russell stated that his church had received 135 new members since annual conference, some 50 of whom were by profession of faith.

Dr. W. L. Duren, of St. Mark Methodist church, and Dr. S. T. Senter, of First Methodist church, are engaged in special services during this week and will receive new members on Easter Sunday.

The Rev. L. W. Collins, of Wesley Memorial church, is being assisted this week by Dr. Raymond Paty, of Emory University. For several days Mr. Collins has been holding preliminary services making preparations for the week's revival. He said he would receive some 100 new members at the close of the series of meetings.

The Rev. Felton Williams, of St. Paul church, is helping the Rev. J. W. O. McKibben during the revival at the Haygood Memorial church, where the special services have been in progress for a week with gratifying results. Mr. Williams has just concluded a meeting at his own church, where the Rev. Luther Bridges did the preaching. As a result of that meeting 85 were admitted to the church membership, 59 of whom were on profession of faith. Since annual conference Mr. Williams has received 129 new members.

The Rev. Horace S. Smith, of the Decatur First Methodist church, reported that the disastrous fire of last week interfered with the progress of the meeting at that church

LEGISLATIVE GROUP NAMED BY COUNCIL

George W. Taylor Heads
New Committee of Greater Atlanta Body.

Authorization of a new committee, to be designated as the legislative committee, and passage of a resolution calling on all committee chairmen to make monthly reports of the activities of the various committees Monday featured the monthly meeting of the council of Greater Atlanta.

George W. Taylor, of Blackhall district, heads the new legislative committee. Other members are J. S. Thompson, Mayor C. R. Pyburn, Avondale; A. W. Jones, Center Hill, and A. S. Nance, East Point district. This committee will attempt to draft a measure providing for keeping polls open until 6 o'clock in all primaries and elections instead of closing precincts outside the limits of boroughs composing Greater Atlanta at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The resolution asking for the report of committees is designed to stimulate activity in the council. Although the council has been in existence since January 1, none of the five other committees named by the mayor has reported any activity. Mayor Pyburn was author of the proposal to have committee reports at every meeting of the council, stating that the council should do everything it can to stimulate interest in development of all the area included in the new municipality.

Westward OVER THE FAMOUS Sunset Route

New Orleans to California and the Pacific northwest via Houston, San Antonio, El Paso, Tucson, Phoenix—AND THE "WORLD WONDERFUL CARRISO GORGE."

New Orleans, one of the most DIVERTING and interesting cities in the U. S.; French restaurants; rambling antique shops; colorful French market—

—Then you cross the Mississippi and skirt the Gulf through the lands passing through Longfellow's "countryside."

—at San Antonio there is the blood-stained Alamo, cradle of Texas liberty; historic old missions and the wonderful Japanese gardens of Brackenridge Park.

—And speed across the plains and prairies of South Texas with great cattle herds, oil fields and plantations—real cowboys a replica of yesterday.

—hundreds of miles of Rio Grande skirting the Mexican border—many points where you may stop over and enjoy the DIFFERENT people with whom you will come in contact.

—you pass through towering mountains in ranges, cross colorful deep canyons and see the "wild west" as it was yesterday.

Then across Arizona with its cactus grown waste lands and rolling sands—and in the midst of this one of the world's wonders, the "Salton Sea" which appeared "over night."

All this and a great deal more as you ride the country's finer limited WEST—yet the "Sunset Limited," all Pullman, and "Argonaut" with their wonderful complete equipment are not EXTRA FARE trains.

LOW FARES—Stop-overs, diverse return routes, May 15 to September 30. Southern Pacific offers three other great routes—"Golden State," "Overland," "Shasta," through Chicago. Ask for literature showing routes and trip costs.

Beck Calls for 'Rebellion' Against Prohibition Law

Constitutional Authority Says Such a Revolt "Involves No Disrespect for Old Document."

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Members of congress today were loath to comment upon the stirring speech yesterday in New York of Representative James M. Beck, of Pennsylvania, former solicitor-general of the United States and regarded as one of the outstanding authorities on the constitution. Mr. Beck told an audience in Carnegie hall that revolt against the eighteenth amendment "involves no disrespect to the constitution of the fathers," and declared that if the constitutional convention of 1787 had imagined that any such encroachment upon the personal liberties of future citizens would have been attempted the members would have straightway adjourned sine die.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Women's Organization for Prohibition. Reform and the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. Pronounced dries among the representatives labeled the address as "inciting to rebellion," and declared that since its adoption the amendment was an integral part of the constitution. But many dries who have been inclined toward open-mindedness on the proposition were frankly disposed to show great respect for the views of the man whose constitutional opinions hold great weight.

10-Year Revolt. "For 10 years," the speaker said, "the American people have been in revolt against the eighteenth amendment. Millions of Americans, among them many of the best of our people, have refused to obey the prohibition law. No such widespread opposition to a law has ever been known in our history. The revolt against the alien and sedition laws was confined to one political party; the later revolt against the fugitive slave law was largely confined to one political party."

"But we have witnessed in the last 10 years the unprecedented spectacle of millions of American men and women privately and publicly showing their contempt for a law, even though it had the high sanction of being a part of the constitution. And now this revolt has reached proportions which will soon be, if not now, a political revolution."

"The eighteenth amendment was proposed to the people of the United States by some 500 members of congress, many of whom notoriously acted under duress of threats, which rose little higher than moral blackmail, and was ratified by some 5,000 members of state legislatures, many of whom had no sympathy with the amendment, but were similarly coerced."

No Idea. "If the constitutional convention of 1787 had had the slightest conception that, under its amending power, the eighteenth amendment would one day be adopted, they would have adjourned sine die. It does not lie in the mouth of the prohibitionist to invoke our submission to the prohibition law by respect for the constitution, for they had scant respect for the constitution when the highly subsidized Anti-Saloon League, at the end of an expenditure of $30,000,000 and by discreditable political tactics, destroyed the basic character of the American constitution by this illegitimate amendment."

Predicting that the present generation may not see the final repeal of the eighteenth amendment, the Pennsylvania declared:

"But it will see an abandonment of any attempt to enforce it, except in those states, if any, where the policy of prohibition is congenial."

"When the Volstead law is repealed," he continued, "as it will be when your representatives in congress realize that they can no longer sulk and dodge, there will then be no new attempt by the federal government to put the American people in the chains of an intolerant policy. If the eighteenth amendment must remain in the constitution, it can, as a 'death's head' or memento mori, serve as a perpetual warning to future generations not to allow moral fanatics to tamper with that great and noble compact of government."

Would Turn. Beck said that if Thomas Jefferson, "in his distant grave at Monticello, had any conception of the eighteenth amendment, he would literally turn in his grave."

"To him," he continued, "it would have been inconceivable that the same American people who gave to the world that lofty assertion of individual liberty, the Declaration of Independence, could a century and a half later give to an equally astonished world such a declaration of moral intolerance as the eighteenth amendment."

"This great meeting, called by the women of New York, encourages me to believe that this question of prohibition will be solved by the awakened intelligence and the moral enthusiasm of women."

Mississippi Sillon Calls Marshall Liar

JACKSON, Miss., April 14.—(AP)—Carl Marshall, the recalcitrant lawyer-witness who fled Mississippi to escape legislative punishment in the anti-trust case, yesterday branded a "liar" on the floor of the house of representatives by Dr. J. S. Austin, member from Warren county.

The accusation was shouted with gesticulation by Dr. Austin after Speaker Tom Bailey had read a telegram from Marshall addressed to the house on the night the body voted impeachment resolutions against Lester C. Franklin, chairman of the state tax commission, for his part in settlement of the anti-trust suit for $80,000. In the telegram Marshall declared that Representative E. E. Arnold, of Hancock county, had told "a deliberate falsehood" in quoting Marshall as saying that Franklin received any part of the money.

Representative Price asked that Mr. Marshall be advised by the house that "if he has anything to say to this house he had better come here and say it in person."

Then Representative Austin arose and declared:

"Everybody in this house believes that Representative Arnold said is the truth and what Carl Marshall said is a lie. He's an old scoundrel and I'll fight anybody that tries to defend him."

Marshall admitted he received the money in Memphis from a Boston paying concern's representative, but was sentenced to jail for contempt by the legislature because he would not tell where $82,000 of the money went. He is in New Orleans.

Sinclair Settlement Approved by Senate

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—The Walsh bill to authorize settlement of the case of the United States against the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company for $2,000,494, was passed today by the senate and sent to the house.

The case, now pending in the federal court of Delaware, grew out of the Salt Creek oil lease from the government.

Alfred Pomeroy and Owen J. Roberts, special government counsel, would be authorized by the measure to settle the case for the amount specified which has been agreed upon.

There was many a day before I started taking Sargol when it was about all I could do to hold out to make my run from Atlanta to Chattanooga. Now I jump on the old engine and make the round trip feeling as good when I get back as when I started out, recently stated Luke L. Brown, 29 Gerude Place, N. W., Atlanta.

Mr. Brown has been an engineer with the N. C. & St. L. Railroad for 18 years. He is a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Bolton Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons and the Capital City Blue Lodge. His full statement follows:

"I used to get on my engine many a time when I felt more like going to bed than I did like going to work. My constipation had been giving me lots of trouble. I had mighty little appetite and nothing tasted right. When I did eat I suffered so much with indigestion that I actually dreaded sometimes to sit down to the table. Running a railroad engine is no 'child's play'—a man's nerves are at high tension all the time, and he needs plenty of energy. Feeling like I did, I'll tell anybody that when I finished a run I was fagged out and my nerves were just about 'shot to pieces.' Terrific headaches used to come on nearly every day and I was badly constipated along with my other troubles. I realized I was in bad shape, and I tried about every medicine I could hear of that I thought would help me, but they gave me absolutely nothing but temporary relief."

"Three bottles of Sargol have put me back on my feet feeling as good as I ever felt in my life! I relish my food now like I did when I was a boy. I can hardly wait from one meal to the other, and I frequently eat between meals. My stomach takes care of it in great shape! My nerves are in good control and I can't remember when I've slept any better than I do now. I'm gaining weight right along and my whole system is built up and strengthened to where I really enjoy every minute of my run. I never have headaches any more now, and taking me up one side and down the other I feel like a brand-new man!"

"Sargol Pills got my liver working good, ended my constipation, and I'll be glad to tell anybody what the Sargol treatment did for me."

The Sargol man is at Jacobs' Main Store, 48 North Broad St., Grant Bldg., where he is meeting the public and explaining the merits of this celebrated new scientific product. Sargol may be obtained at all Jacobs' Drug Stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

THE STIMSON MESSAGE.

The Stimson statement of what the London naval parity has produced for the United States, Great Britain and Japan in the way of a three-power treaty for a naval construction holiday until 1936 will be encouraging to all our people who are not excessively bellicose.

There would have been general joy had the full mutual hope of President Hoover and Premier Mac-Donald been realized in a five-power pact for naval reductions. But any step forward toward putting world peace footing is a gain to civilization, and the three-power pact expected from London is a highly promising step to that goal.

It is believable that effects flowing from the triple agreement will create a pressure of world sentiment upon France and Italy that will induce them to drop their fears and feud and soon come into the non-competitive construction treaty.
The folly of their present attitudes in generally recognized by national leaders in the Americas and in Europe, and there is in the world atmosphere an unwritten international agreement that those powers shall not be suffered to embroil the nations in another world war.

Our American delegates at London have served with praiseworthy patience and discretion, and will not return home empty-handed. They will bring to the president, the senate and the people not all that was hoped for, but much that will aid future negotiations in the interest of peace and popular security around the world. They have helped to forge at least one additional lock upon the Pandora box of cataclysmic war.

SUPPLY REAL EDUCATION.

The sessions in Macon this week of the Georgia Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations and of the Georgia Education Association are important functions and can be made valuable in effects upon the educational system of the state.

There will be much in them of purely professional and technical interest to those actively engaged in educational work, but the main interest will center in what the expert bodies may recommend for the improvement and stabilization of the public school system to meet the needs of the children and the intellectual efficiency of the oncoming generation.

Recent bulletins from the office of education in Washington reveal that Georgia needs the doing of much constructive work to reduce her illiteracy roll and to bring her common schools up fully to the standard of the nation as a whole.
It is not arguable at all that we can, without any excessive burdens upon the people, establish an equal privilege system of public instruction throughout the commonwealth. We can have just that and every sensible Georgian knows it.

But the reorganization of the system to that effect must be made by men and women who are squareshoulding enough to face facts and deal with them wisely. They will need to cut out the fads and experiments of theoretical pedagogues, retrain from endeavors to imitate the extravagances of other systems, and upon the bedrock of efficiency in teacher and pupils, establish the "thorough system" of schools that the state constitution calls for—a system that will educate rather than superficially decorate the children of Georgia.

CONFEDERATE TAG DAY.

Tomorrow will be tag day to raise the funds needed to send the old Confederate veterans of the Soldiers' Home and the county to the annual reunion at Beauvoir, the home of President Jefferson Davis, at Biloxi, in Mississippi. The amount needed is not at all formidable, due to the liberality of the "railroads" in according special rates.
It should be given by the citizens without grudge or stint.

These old Confederate veterans who linger on among us, in practically helpless life in most cases, are the most pathetic veterans in human history. They are the most deserving veterans any people have embodied. They have been, of dire economic necessity until now, the most scantily cared for veterans of any civilized land. They fought through years six decades and more ago with the minimum of equipment and munitions, and with a valor that held the world in awe, and they succumbed to defeat through exhaustion without shame and came to ruined homes to live out their lot with heroic fortitude.

Surely there is not a man or woman in this great city who does not revere the history of these old veterans and feel a sincere sympathy to forego their own again with the small remnant of their comrades. When the cause is presented tomorrow by the patriotic women in charge of the appeal it is to be hoped—indeed, confidently expected—that the response will be cheerful, ample and honorable to the acclaimed generosity of our people.

THE CRIMINAL SHOULD PAY.

One of those sob-sisters who take flowers and angel cakes to murderers condemned to the death-chair or the gallows has sent to the newspapers another lachrymose appeal for the abolition of death penalties.
She repeats the stereotyped para-noiac pleas and suggests for the millionth time, at least, that "rather than take life let the criminals be put to imprisonment for life."

Without going over again the reasons why the arguments against executing willful murderers, rapists and the like are not persuasive, it is enough to recall that putting criminals to imprisonment for life does not sufficiently keep them in prison for life. Almost daily in the country in some state such bloody and unconscionable criminals are being paroled or pardoned from life imprisonment by politically-influenced parole boards and overpersuaded governors.

The cases are by no means rare where murderers convicted and sentenced to death by honest juries and judges are first commuted to life imprisonment and later are paroled or fully pardoned to menace society again. One has only to keep a watchful eye on the columns of his daily newspaper to become convinced shortly that imprisonment for life does not mean for life but in the fewest of cases reported.

It would be a great help in determining men from high crimes if death sentences were more generally carried out as decreed by the courts. It would be most wholesome for life protection to return to original Georgia law under which a governor could only suspend a death sentence until the legislature could pass upon its execution or its substitution with a lesser penalty.
Anyhow the country is overcrowded now with criminals banally paroled or pardoned from electric chairs, gibbets and penitentiaries.

A SENATOR OF WORTH.

The announcement by Governor Long, of Louisiana, that he will very probably contest the senatoriship with Senator Joseph E. Ransdell will attract nationwide attention to the Louisiana democratic primary.

Governor Long is a spectacular personage, young, impulsive, erratic in mind and conduct, and often referred to as "the jazz governor" of the Pelican state. Ordinarily one would not look for such an outburst to go far in the politics of a serious constituency, but it has happened more than once in the peculiar political condition of the southern states. And it may, possibly and deplorably, happen again.

But it can be said without prejudice that the disappearance of Senator Ransdell from the senate would cause widespread regret in the south and in the most progressive business circles of the nation.
He has been in congress 34 years,
more than 17 of them in the senate.
He has given his earnest attention and efforts to the problems of national waterways, flood control and the merchant marine. For 13 years he was president of the National Rivers and Harbors congress and organized the National Merchant Marine Association, of which he is president.

No senator has been more devoted than he to the transportation and the cotton producing interests of the southern states. The loss of his great fund of knowledge, his legislative experience and his popularity in the senate would be a loss to the south not easily supplied.
He has the faculty for statesmanship and that unselfish ardor for the national welfare that is rare in the present era. He is a strong and valuable asset to the national democracy as well as to the national spirit of conservative progress.

The Chattanoogaans have succeeded in getting a fast "night train" to New York, but what's their hurry?

Governor Huey Long, of Louisiana, wants to go to the United States senate. Somebody should warn him that there's no palamalley in the national capitol.

Jim Ham Lewis' campaign slogan should be "Gimme a beer, or gimme a beer!"

Vexations For Bachelors.

The birth rate is falling in Italy.
This makes the fascist brethren extremely angry for they have long entertained hopes of seeing a population of 50,000,000 in the peninsula before a quarter century is over. Their anger, expressed in the newspapers, is chiefly directed against bachelors.
A special tax is already being levied on bachelors for the obstacle they not joining the ranks of the benedict-ed, but worse is to follow. Signor Mussolini recently warned them that he is contemplating even more severe measures to push them into marriage.
What these extraordinary measures will be, the duke didn't say. If Mussolini follows the example of ancient Sparta, the Italian bachelors may next see themselves distracted by law, and if that doesn't make them hunt a wife quickly there are still other vexations and punishments which Lycurgus thought up for just such recalcitrants. In Sparta the bachelors were excluded from the sight of those public processions in which the young men and maidens danced naked, and in winter time the officers of the city compelled them to march naked themselves round the market place, singing as they went a certain song to their own disgrace, that they justly suffered this punishment for disobeying the laws. Moreover they were denied the respect of the young generation. The young men never rose from their seats when a bachelor approached, saying respectfully: "No child of yours will make room for me when

Revival in Judaism.

In the time of religious persecutions in Spain and Portugal, Jews had the alternative of being expelled or embrace Christianity. Most of them chose the first and went to Holland and England, but others conformed, outwardly at least, to the practices of the dominant creed. These Jews were known as "Marranos." Throughout the centuries that have elapsed since those severe decrees, they have adhered to Christianity, but at the same time have largely refrained from mixing with the Spanish and Portuguese. There were some who internally, of course, but on the whole they remained a distinct and separate people. Since the close of the 18th century, and the revival of the Jewish national spirit in all countries, these "Mar-ranos" have been returning to Judaism in large numbers. There are now three large synagogues in Portugal, in Oporto, Braganza and Coimbra. At Braganza, where the Jewish community is entirely composed of Marranos, the synagogue is called in Hebrew "Sha'ar Phidyon," which means "Gates of Redemption," because it is constructed thanks to generous donations from America.

Gloomy Paris.

"Mi-Careme," the day that comes when Lent is half gone, and always assumed a character of gloom and gloom in the past, went by almost unobserved in Paris this year.
Before the war, midnights danced in the streets on Mi-Careme, and rejoicing and festivities went on till far into the night with public buildings illuminated and the streets crowded with hilarious, confetti-throwing revelers. Since the war, the day has lagged. Places of business keep open on that day. No official programs are run off any longer and the midnights who were all day dressed to the nines, still wear their evening dress. The Americans of the left bank were the only ones who made the day an occasion for an extra bit of hilarity to say, they lingered an hour or so longer in the terrace cafes along the Boulevard Montmartre. But the "grand" boulevards were quiet and the crowds almost as at a funeral. Those who lament the passing of "Gay Paris," had ample reason for their l-told-you-so's on Mi-Careme.

Sermons To Live By

BY ELAM FRANKLIN DEMPSEY.

WHAT LOVE CAN DO.
Text: "Love is the greatest of herbets, love is, than a stalled ox and hated therewith." Proverbs 15:17.
We here see that love can make life
a continual feast.

There are many things that love can do and every one of them is good.
Let us then press on to learn more perfectly the essence of love.
What is life worth with this lesson unlearned?

I make bold to reply that it is worth less than nothing.
In a simple way, great truths are often illustrated from incidents of daily life and out of the mouths of children. A very eloquent sermon upon our text is the following narrative from some writer whose name we have not been able to discover but the lesson of whose pen we will do well to lay to heart.
"At first I was a miser, and was visiting a family of cousins, and was not anxious to leave the spot where he had been so happy.
"I liked to stay there," he told Sister Alice, "they have such a beautiful home."
"Alice was five years older than Robert. The remark seemed so odd that she closed her book and stared at him. 'Did you say Aunt Emma had a beautiful home? What a funny idea. It's just a plain little cottage, and the furniture is old, and some of the carpets are worn out, and they haven't nice pictures like ours. What makes you think their home is so beautiful?'
"At first I thought a minute before he answered: 'I guess it must be because everybody is so nice to everybody else, and nobody scolds or teases.'"

Let the Highway Board Alone Until It Builds the Arterial Roads

One of the chief needs of Georgia is to provide modern and easy ways for people from everywhere to get into the state.
The way to get out solves itself in the same proposition. We want to make Georgia so attractive that when a touring stranger comes into it he won't want to go out, or, if he does go out it will be to see the state from the inside to come back to stay."

Either Paved Arterials or Politics.
Everybody not a congenial idiot knows that it is fine peanut politics to listen to delegations of land owners, optimists and promoters who want the state's money to make them profits, and to satisfy them and get their votes by building little patches of spider-leg, finger-length paved roads around the county towns. That policy gains such applause, wastes much money, and keeps the whole state in the mud!

That policy has already frittered away $100,000,000 of the people's money and left us at the end of 12 years with only two border-to-border roads—that from Augusta cata-wampus to the Florida line, and that just lately connected up Dixie highway from the coast to Florida.
And in order to get them linked up and passable in all weathers the people had to do more praying than would raise St. Peter into Paradise and more cursing than would sink Satan into Hades.

Trade and Travel to Be Served.
Every consideration that appeals to common sense argues for the completion of the arterial highways before any money is spent on piecemeal projects to appease a hungry clamor.
The trade of the state is greatly served and expedited through paved highways over which commodities may be transported, and which roads can be readily reached from wide zones through which they run.
The travel of the people, the greater part of it, is also greatly expedited, and that means more than mere joy-

MEDICAL CURE OF PEPIC ULCER.

In the fifth article in this series on gastric and duodenal ulcer I described the kind of diet that prevents this increasingly prevalent disease (as well as appendicitis and mucous colitis).
In the sixth I gave a diet adapted for the person who already has such an ulcer. And now we come to the third article, which is a practical guide to the treatment of the ulcer patient.
The ulcer patient is a person who suffers from a chronic inflammation of the stomach lining, which is called gastritis. The ulcer is a hole in the stomach lining, which is caused by the action of gastric acid on the inflamed tissue. The ulcer is a chronic disease, and it is not cured by medicine. The only way to cure it is by changing the diet and the habits of the patient. The diet should be simple and easy to digest. The habits should be regular and the patient should avoid stress and worry.

The Way of the World

Mary Garden, who is full of ideas over and above, or under and below, grand opera, would cut out grays, blacks and sombre browns. She would clothe women in red, green and violet. Miss Garden would brighten up the world with color, and not a bad idea at that.

"What the world needs is more color, and I think the day is rapidly approaching when this will be realized," she says.

"Women who wear brilliantly colored clothes are not daring, except in the face of age-old customs. They are merely helping to make this a brighter age and are doing just what almost all people ought to do—make themselves and other feel brighter. It is the nature of men and women to like bright colors, but for years they have suppressed their desire because of worn-out traditions. This is an age of color and self-expression, and it is drag enough at the best, so why

FIGHTING.

Somebody has figured out that most men have now become civilized to the degree that they do not wish to fight with their fists or with weapons. However, they will pay thousands of dollars to see somebody else fight in a professional boxing bout. The fact is that the love of fighting is still instinctive in man, and will be for some centuries to come. It is not so near the surface, but it is still there. And we go deep enough, that's the real reason why disarmament conferences may cannot forget that he has come up in the world through conflict. The fight isn't out of his system, though it is partly covered up.
The instinct expresses itself in fists and battleships.

WISE OLD SPINOZA.

Spinoza was thoughtful enough and wise enough to see that the great ethical systems which preceded him, Spinoza made the goal of conduct happiness. The presence of pleasure and the absence of pain—this he called happiness. He called pleasure and pain not states, but transitions. Passing from a lesser state of pleasure to a greater is pleasure, he said.

Of course pleasure and pain must not be put on a merely physical basis.
Many who endure great physical pain, invalids, cripples and others, experience great happiness. And many who do not know what physical pain is. Others who have every opportunity for pleasure are not happy. It is deeper than all this.

Perhaps happiness grows out of the consciousness of good performance; up to the limit of one's ability.

purchasing power of the people over wider areas to the benefit of factories

But patch-quilt roads with one end ending five miles away in a mud puddle confer no such benefits and ruin popular religion!

Big Profits of Tourist Trade.

The experts of the federal department of commerce predict a steady increase of tourist travel in the United States, with the growing number of automobiles and the wide and cheerful advertising of the scenic and health attractions of our vast domain.
It is estimated that last year something like 50,000,000 of the inhabitants made touring trips upon the paved highways of the nation. That accounts for 110,000 tourist camps and road refreshment stations that did a business of $250,000,000 in 1928 and twice that in 1929. There are 65,000 of these camps and soft drink and hot-dog set-ups that are permanent all-year-round caterers. It is calculated that this year they will do a greater business than ever. That business is extra to hotel, garage, filling station and other tourist expenses.

Georgia Is Losing Her Share.

There can be no question that Georgia is losing much of what would be her proportional share of the enormous tourist trade because of the condition of our roads.

It is well advertised all over the nation, in practically every tourist bureau, every A. A. office, and in every filling station, that if you want to keep out of mud and ruin your car "keep away from Georgia!"
That is a rich reputation for us proud and boastful Georgians to have abroad, isn't it? And it is almost wholly due to the fact that our little pismire county politicians have been able to pervert our roads policy and put the interests of those in the condition that makes one think it broken out with black smallpox pustules.

Let's Quit the Bad Policy.

Understand, gentle cock-eyed reader, that personally I am not interested in whether we ever have a sensible road system in the state. I do not own an automobile, a touring car, or bus line, or a filling station, or a hot-dog stand. But I am the friend of all Georgians, especially those in the country districts, who own a car and deserve to get the utmost value and pleasure from its use.

Bitter Fight Is Predicted On Reorganization Measure

Reforms Contemplated Generally Favored But Effect On Extra Session Is Feared.

BY FRANCIS W. CLARKE.

Comment in political circles in Atlanta yesterday, reflecting undoubtedly expressions that have been received from over the state, tell of an unusual situation which has arisen following the report that the governor may include reorganization of the state government in his call for an extra session.

Notwithstanding the fact that it is practically impossible to find anyone familiar with the workings of the state government who does not admit that widespread and sweeping changes in the interest of economy and efficiency are needed, it is at the same time almost universally held that the including of this needed reform in the matters to be considered at the extra session will result in a confusion in the legislature's sessions, which might result in involving the consideration of the financial condition of the state to such an extent as to lead not only to a long drawn out session, but to actually imperil the passing of effective tax measures.

In other words, public opinion generally favors sweeping reorganization of the operating plan of the state government, but at the same time decries its being mixed up in an emergency consideration of state finances.

Stormy Session Predicted.
Should the governor include the reorganization plan in his call for the extra session, which it is now believed probable, then the way is opened up, according to some prognosticators, for a session replete with acrimonious debate, and the further danger of alignments and combinations among the members which would seriously threaten the speedy and most efficient working out of the state's financial problem.

The ramifications through which the fires of this fight might be fed lead not only through practically every department at the capital, but lead out into the home counties of practically every member of the legislature. It would undoubtedly result in more pressure being put upon the individual legislators than in the case of any legislation which has been considered for many terms past.

In the first place, the heads of many departments of the state government who have heretofore been elected by the people, will be put in the appointive class, and several commissions consisting of three or more members will be reduced to one directing head.

It is taken for granted that these officeholders would oppose legislation that would abolish their offices. The seriousness of this type of opposition is illustrated in the case of the prison commission, which under the proposed plan would be deprived of all of its duties except that of a board of pardons. While the high character of the members of the present commission would preclude any suggestion that they would actively lobby against the reorganization bill, the fact remains that the large number of members of the legislature who are attorneys and who, in line with their professional activities, frequently go before the prison commission in behalf of clients for whom they seek clemency, would ponder seriously before actively supporting a measure which would be offensive to the commissioners.

Field Forces Affected.
Hundreds of field men of various departments and boards would be affected in like manner. These field representatives of the state departments come from all sections of Georgia, and it goes without saying that they would speedily engage the interest of relatives and friends back home in the putting of pressure on local legislators to "save Bill's job."

Employees all over the state of the public health service, of the banking department, the fish and game board, the forestry service and other of the secondary departments of the state service would be confronted with the possible loss of jobs.

The fight over this measure, if it is included in the extra session call, a political wisecrack openly declare, will be much more intense than it was at the session of the legislature last summer, and it is this belief that leads to the fear that the calm and effective consideration of the finances of the state may be affected.

Which presents the anomalous situation of a generally approved piece of legislation being faced with so many obstacles and pitfalls as not only to threaten its own success, but also the properly calm and cool deliberation of the necessity to find an effective way to clear up present lamentable condition of the state's finances.

ATLANTANS ARE URGED TO HELP IN CENSUS

Many Persons Fail To Fill Out Slips Left At Home.

Appeal for co-operation in taking the 1930 census was made Monday by census officials who reported that numbers of people in the Atlanta district are failing to fill out and mail the slips left by enumerators who did not find anyone home.

A pink slip containing questions for the individual to answer, and a white sheet for the family census are being left at homes where the enumerators have called several times without finding anyone there, it was said. Census officials pointed out that it will take very little time to fill out the blanks, and franked envelopes are left with the slips, so return of the sheets is a simple matter.

The first concrete results of the census will be given out after Wednesday night, which is the deadline for the enumerators. The clean-up work will start after Wednesday night. The census information will be given out by political subdivisions, such as wards and country districts.

How I coaxed him to eat!

"ONCE I was worried. Mealtime was getting on my nerves. I prepared many appetizing dishes, but John simply would not eat—just 'minced' at his food. Perhaps sometimes a little grouchy. I began to fear he was 'slipping.' What was I to do? Love, home, happiness, business success—all depended upon an improvement in his condition. The blood tonic idea suggested itself to me. My Druggist recommended S.S.S. He told me that S.S.S. was a great blood tonic; that it had been successful for over 100 years; that it was made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and was beneficial to the most delicate system. Also that it would build up the blood and improve the processes by which the body is nourished. I brought home a large size bottle. John agreed to try it. Well, in just a few days I could see the difference. His improvement has been so rapid he is going to take several more bottles, and not only that, but he is now telling his friends to take S.S.S."

It is a known fact that when a man's system gets "run-down," he hasn't the resistance to ward off diseases. Loss of appetite is only a symptom. General weakness pervades the entire body. There is no desire to work or play. It is dangerous to let the red-blood-count remain below normal.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there would be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

It is natural to expect, when you get your blood cells up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, and those skin troubles to disappear. You should get hungry again, sleep soundly, and firm flesh take the place of that which was once flabby. You should feel strong and your nerves become steady.

You owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S. Its tonic effects will surprise you.

S.S.S.

S.S.S. is daily helping people to regain their strength. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. It promotes a keen appetite, gives vitality to the body, clears the skin and wards off disease. All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

LUCY COBB CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE FORMED

Movement To Make Girls' School Junior College Given Added Impetus.

ATHENS, Ga., April 14.—The movement here to make Lucy Cobb institute, famous southern girls' school a modern, standard junior college, was given added impetus Monday when the woman's campaign committee for a referendum on May 2 was organized.

Mrs. Charles P. Brightwell was named chairman of the committee; Mrs. Randall Freeman, secretary; Mrs. Hunter Harris, treasurer.

Plans for opening the campaign headquarters on Clayton street were perfected, and reports from citizens on a preliminary canvass of the attitude of the citizens in general were very gratifying. A statement clarifying the proposal to the voters was also issued.

The referendum will be held on May 2 when the voters of Athens and Clarke county will determine whether they want to authorize appropriation of $5,000 annually from the city and county treasury for the purpose of assisting the recognition of Lucy Cobb as a standard junior college.

The referendum was asked by a citizens' committee for the purpose of enabling Lucy Cobb to meet modern educational requirements. For years it was one of the first-rank finishing schools, noted for its cultural environment. Modern educational demands, however, have made it necessary for girls' schools to adopt more complete curriculums which will be recognized by universities where girls desire to obtain further educational advantages.

This has made it necessary for Lucy Cobb to provide for a permanent revenue of $10,000 per annum, in addition to its other resources in order to meet the requirements of the southern association governing junior colleges.

Dean S. V. Sanford, of the University of Georgia, who has been urging the creation of junior colleges in the state to provide for students of the freshmen and sophomore class, has declared here that if Lucy Cobb is made a standard junior college, it will aid in solving the problem of overcrowding at the university and thus make it possible for the university to give better advantages to students of the upper classes and graduate students.

Northeast Georgia Preparing For Apple Blossom Festival

Exciting Voting Contests Being Conducted in Six Towns To Select Queen of Festival.

Mother's Building Will Be Dedicated At Berry Thursday

MT. BERRY, Ga., April 14.—Ground-breaking exercises for the new mothers' building at the Berry Junior college will be held on Thursday, April 17, under the auspices of the Atlanta Martha Berry Circle. Mrs. Frank Inman, Atlanta, treasurer of the building fund, who has been very active in raising money for the building, is in charge of arrangements.

It is stated that this will be the first college building in the world dedicated to mothers and the belief is expressed that it will be followed by erection of similar structures throughout the country. The building will be used as a dormitory to house the girls attending the Berry Junior college. It will be constructed of red brick.

Exercises in the college chapel will be held in the morning followed by a noon luncheon. Places at this luncheon must be reserved through Mrs. Frank Inman at Atlanta.

Miss Martha Berry, founder and director of the school, is continuing her efforts to raise funds to finance construction of a new dormitory for boys at the junior college, as well as much needed industrial and agricultural buildings.

"Atlanta Day," as April 17 has been designated at the schools, will be started at the capital with a motor caravan leaving that city at 8:30 o'clock, driving to Mt. Berry by way of Marietta, Cartersville and Rome. Mt. Berry being two miles beyond the Dixie highway.

The entire distance are paved. Reservations must be made Tuesday at the latest through Mrs. Frank Inman, Hemlock 0228.

DUNLAP WON'T RUN FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Hopes Man Seeking To Serve State and Not Self Will Be Named.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 14.—(AP)—Edgar B. Dunlap, former state commander of the American Legion, who has been frequently mentioned as a probable candidate for governor, issued a statement here today announcing he will not run for the office.

He said he had reached the decision after conscientious consideration of the requests of friends that he offer himself as a candidate.

His statement listed the following reasons for his determination: "First, I do not believe the necessities of the situation demand the financial sacrifice that the campaign and the proper and dignified maintenance of the office of governor would necessarily entail, and I must perforce recognize that my duty to my family is superior to my duty to the state."

"Second, since 1919 I have been closely affiliated with the American Legion and my entrance into politics might involve that most worthy organization. This I will not do. The American Legion is non-political and it shall always be my utmost endeavor to keep it out of politics. I believe, however, that in choosing leaders, all things else being equal, that the people of the state should give preference to ex-service men—the men who have been and are their lives in defense of their country should certainly be preferred as leaders to govern the state."

Dunlap expressed the hope that "the people of Georgia will in September elect some citizen who is seeking to serve the state instead of himself, some democrat whose loyalty to the party has been and is unquestioned, some fearless person who will have the courage to reform the tax system and the system of higher education now in force."

Why it's wise to choose a CHEVROLET SIX!

Choose CHEVROLET for Smoothness . . .

An important thing to watch for in buying a low-priced car is SMOOTHNESS—and the only way to get satisfactory smoothness is to choose a car with a six-cylinder motor. Six cylinders save the whole car—the engine, the body and the chassis—from the destructive effects of vibration. And they make motoring far more comfortable and pleasant for both driver and passengers. In the new Chevrolet, you get every advantage of six-cylinder smoothness—for it is powered by a great 50-horsepower six-cylinder valve-in-head engine.

Choose CHEVROLET for Beauty . . . . .

When selecting a low-priced car, you should also pay particular attention to beauty—for the appearance of your car will determine very largely the pride you take in owning it. Chevrolet brings you the greater beauty of bodies by Fisher—styled by Fisher's famous artist-designers. Long, low and properly proportioned—finished in pleasing colors of genuine Duco—and complete with every feature of modern automotive coachwork—Chevrolet-Fisher bodies introduce a new measure of quality and beauty into the low-price field.

Choose CHEVROLET for Economy . . . . .

Another fine thing about owning the new Chevrolet is its remarkably low cost of operation and upkeep. For, with all its six-cylinder smoothness and power, it is just as economical as any car you can buy. It costs no more for oil. It costs no more for tires. It costs no more for service. And, in a recent officially-observed economy test of 40 cars, a Chevrolet Coach won first place—averaging over 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline in a 200-mile run from sea level to an elevation of 6000 feet!

Choose CHEVROLET for Safety . . . . .

From the standpoint of safety, it is also wise to choose a Chevrolet Six. Chevrolet's fully-enclosed weather-proof brakes assure quick positive stops, rain or shine. A full ball bearing steering mechanism makes it possible to handle the car quickly in emergencies. The safety-type gasoline tank is located in the rear. The new non-glare windshield makes driving safer and more pleasant. And the combination hardwood-and-steel construction of the Fisher bodies is the strongest design known to the body building industry.

Choose CHEVROLET for Modern Design . .

Chevrolet gives you more than the benefits of a six-cylinder motor; its design is equally advanced throughout. Everywhere, you can see the benefits of this modern engineering—in the four-wheel brakes, the hardwood-and-steel bodies, the four long semi-elliptic springs, the positive pressure pump fuel system, the long rigidly-braced frame which supports the body throughout its entire length, and the four hydraulic shock absorbers.

Choose CHEVROLET for Service . . . . .

The quality and economy of Chevrolet service are further reasons why it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six. Chevrolet's owner service policy calls for free replacement—including both parts and labor—of any material that may prove defective within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. Chevrolet's flat-rate charges—including both parts and labor—are the lowest in the industry on many service operations. Furthermore, Chevrolet service is available everywhere—for there are more than 10,000 authorized Chevrolet service dealers in America alone.

Choose CHEVROLET for Comfort . . . . .

Comfort is another outstanding feature of the new Chevrolet Six. The very fact that it is a Six means greater riding and driving comfort—because six cylinders prevent annoying vibration and drumming. Chevrolet also offers the greater riding ease and road balance of four semi-elliptic springs—set in the direction of car travel. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers are standard equipment on all models. Extra-wide seats and deep, restful cushions are further features that add much to Chevrolet comfort and luxury.

Choose CHEVROLET for Re-Sale Value . .

Sooner or later, every car is exchanged for a new one. Consequently, re-sale value is an important item to consider when selecting a new car. And from this standpoint, it's especially wise to choose a Chevrolet. The big swing is to the Six. And when you buy a six-cylinder Chevrolet you are assured of a car that will be modern tomorrow as well as today. This is an important fact to remember, for obsolete design always lowers re-sale value.

Choose CHEVROLET for Low Cost . . . . .

Purely on the basis of low cost, it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six. Priced as low as $495 at the factory, the Chevrolet Six is one of the lowest-priced cars in the world. And this low first cost is emphasized over and over again as the months of ownership go by—in gasoline and oil economy, in inexpensive service, and in the low cost of replacement parts. Thus, from every standpoint, it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six.

CHICAGO DEMOCRATS ASSAIL PROH LAWS

Convention Also Takes Stand Against World Court;
Lewis Gives Views.

CHICAGO, April 14.—(P)—Cook county democrats denounced Cook county republicans today and vice versa as both parties held their conventions.

The democrats, meeting before noon, declared against American adherence to the world court, urged repeal of the Jones law, Volstead act, and the Illinois search and seizure law.

That republicans, so far as the county is concerned, may attempt to force the world court as an issue in the coming fall senatorial campaign between Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, the republican nominee, and James Hamilton Lewis, democratic nominee, was indicated in the speech of County Chairman Bernard W. Snow as he opened the G. O. P. meeting.

"I note that in the platform adopted today Cook county democrats declare against American adherence to the League of Nations or the league court, and then compromise with their conscience by endorsing for United States senator a gentleman whose reputation in Washington was largely by his support of the League of Nations program as outlined by the last democratic president," he said.

Lewis is well known as a forceful prohibitionist and he will force prohibition as the issue. Mrs. McCormick is dry. Lewis is a wet. Mrs. McCormick is opposed to the United States joining the World Court.

"I find nowhere in the platform (democratic) as adopted today a demand for the repeal of the 18th amendment, and this in spite of the fact that the democratic candidate for the presidency two years ago made that his platform and forced its acceptance by his party followers," said Snow.

Former Senator Lewis, in a statement to the Associated Press following Snow's address, said:

"I did everything in my power to carry through the repeal of the 18th amendment when it was presented by Wilson as a mere convention of nations to prevent conflict, but when I was sent to Geneva in 1923 those in control of the league court, who had changed it from the Wilson League of Nations to a committee of European countries, making the league a guarantee of their possessions taken under the Versailles treaty, also merely making the move to force the United States to abandon its claim for money owed by the warring nations.

"I protested, came home in the spring of 1923, withdrew my support of the league, as it then stood, by public announcement, and continued from that time on to oppose both the league and a suggestion of the World Court. I opposed them in the national democratic conventions of 1924 at New York and 1928 at Houston, Texas, and that has been my continued position ever since."

Big Brotherhood Of Man Urged By Dr. Shelton

Christianity's call for formation of a universal brotherhood of man was the feature of an address delivered Monday night by Dr. William A. Shelton, who is conducting a two-week revival at the Druid Hills Methodist church.

He speaks at 7:45 o'clock each night and Dr. R. L. Russell, pastor, occupies the pulpit every morning at 10 o'clock.

Issuing a ringing appeal to his audience for wholehearted support of the revival campaign and warning his hearers that failure to throw themselves into the work would spell disaster, Dr. Shelton related the "interdependence of each of us" and pleaded that "each of you shall be your brother's keeper."

The speaker unfolded the story of the plan of Jesus for the "redemption of man."

Young people of the congregation have been invited to attend the service tonight and a special sermon has been prepared to fit modern conditions.

Special music is being furnished by a quartet under the direction of Miss Ethel Beyer and composed of Mrs. John Sizoo, Miss Frances Woodberry, Frank Wall and R. E. Dale. Congregational singing is under the direction of Jeff Cunningham, of Emory University.

Dr. Shelton is widely recognized as one of the leading authorities on Biblical archaeology, having made several trips to Egypt and the Holy Land. He also is one of the outstanding orators of Methodism, and occupies the chair of Semitic languages at Emory University.

Arthur L. Brooks is chairman of publicity for the revival meeting.

Smugglers of Carloads Of Liquor Arraigned

LAKE CHARLES, La., April 14.—(P)—Twelve defendants including Dan Hogan, alias "New York Johnnie," were arraigned today in federal court here on charges of conspiracy to violate the American tariff and the national prohibition laws in coast liquor smuggling reflecting the case of the famous "I'm Alone" rum schooner of Captain John Thomas Randall, sunk in the Gulf of Mexico by the coast guard.

Pleas of not guilty were entered by counsel for the group. Judge Ben C. Dawkins overruled a motion to quash indictments asked on the grounds of vagueness and set the cases down for trial at the beginning of next week's sessions.

The cases to be tried here deal specifically with the alleged shipments of carloads of liquor smuggled in from rum ships and shipped as rice through the Guaymas Station, La., to the east and said to have a wholesale conspiracy of national scope.

High Court Upholds 11-Man Jury Trial

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(P)—Deciding a prohibition case from Oklahoma City, the supreme court today held that a verdict of guilty handed down by a jury of 11 after one juror had been excused by mutual agreement, was valid and effective.

The court upheld the conviction of John Patton, Harold Conant and Jack Baker at Oklahoma City on a charge of conspiracy to bribe Charles Buzzi, a federal prohibition agent.

The defendants had attacked the verdict, not only because of the 11-man jury but because they charged that Buzzi had "framed" them after they had paid him on seven previous occasions not to report violations.

During the proceedings the constitutional guarantee of a trial by a jury of 12 was reviewed in detail. The highest court upheld the government in its contention that the constitutional right to a full jury box could legally be waived.

FLORIDA COUNTY RELEASES RAILROAD

Assured of Tax Payment,
A. C. L. Trains, Track Returned.

SEBING, Fla., April 14.—(UN)—Since payment of back taxes definitely was assured, three locomotives, 60 miles of track and other rolling stock were released to the Atlantic Coast Line railroad today by order of J. M. Lee, Highlands county attorney.

Railroad officials promised today complete settlement will follow a conference with the tax board at Tallahassee tomorrow where Col. W. E. Kay, Atlantic Coast Line general counsel, will represent state railroad interests in asking reduction of taxes on railroad property.

Though members of the tax board said no railroads in Florida had yet paid their 1929 delinquent taxes due April 1, railroad officials denied they were instituting a tax strike.

The Highlands county Coast Line property was attached by Highlands County Sheriff Oscar Wolff Saturday for alleged failure to pay $40,000 in back taxes, badly needed by the county board of education.

Later today, it was announced, the Seaboard Air Line paid its taxes several weeks ago on a 30 per cent assessment basis. Colonel Kay pointed out the Air Line payment to show some railroads have been assessed on a 40 per cent basis and others on a basis of only 23 per cent.

Victim of Paralysis Sues Ginger Company

Another suit for damages as the result of paralysis alleged to have been caused by Jamaica ginger was filed Monday in Fulton superior court. J. D. Talley, 37, of Troup county, is seeking $15,000 damages from Fred H. and Lee Bostwick, proprietors of the Bostwick Drug Company.

Talley, a traveling salesman for a bottling works, charged that after drinking some of the ginger extract he became paralyzed. The ginger extract was sold by the Bostwicks to G. W. Todd, Troup county merchant, from whom he bought it. Talley alleges. The petition was filed by Attorney E. T. Moon, of LaGrange, and Reuben A. Garland, who filed similar petitions several days ago for C. W. Chancellor, J. M. Spence and W. T. Carley, all of Troup county and who seek a total of $30,000 in damages from the Bostwicks.

Oil should clean and protect as well as lubricate—says household expert

The oiling of household devices presents a problem different from that of factory equipment, says a nationally known housekeeping expert. Household appliances are not used constantly and therefore collect dirt and rust when idle. Consequently, oil intended for general household use should clean and protect as well as lubricate.

3-in-One, a scientific blend of mineral, vegetable and animal oils, does these three things better than any other oil. It costs a little more to buy but much less to use, for it will save you many dollars in repairs and replacements on sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, lawn mowers, washers, the electric motors of fans, refrigerators, irons and similar household devices. ## TOM YON QUALIFIES TO SUCCEED HIMSELF

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 14.—(P)—Tom A. Yon, Tallahassee, congressman for the third Florida district, qualified with the secretary of state here today as a candidate for the democratic nomination to succeed himself in June primaries.

Yon is serving his second term. Former Governor Sidney J. Catts, of DeFuniak Springs, recently announced that he would run for the office, and J. Harvey Bayliss, mayor of Pensacola, announced some time ago.

Dr. George H. Bigelow, state health commissioner, said after a study of the symptoms it seemed the illness was not caused by wood or grain alcohol. He was directing a search for higher alcohols of special toxicity or poisonous constituents other than alcohols that might have been used in flavoring the liquor.

A medical school has offered its aid to the state in determining the cause of the illness.

THE GUMPS—CASH OR CHARGE

The Emperor of America
by Sax Rohmer

THIRTIETH INSTALLMENT.

It was a dead, yellow face—the face of a mummy. The eyes appeared superhumanly long. The nose was shoddy, indistinct, the mouth a mere slit. The effect was indescribably terrifying, until one realized that this yellow horror was a wonderful mask of the same delicate texture as the glove.

Behind Roscoe came Deputy Commissioner Burk, followed by a dozen police. Torches lighted up the singular room.

"Head Center!" said someone. Roscoe stepped forward. The figure didn't move. He laid his hand upon the black-robed shoulder, grasped the inert body, drew it toward him, and cast it back with a cry of anger.

"The thing's a dummy!" "Hello, there!" came a deep, gruff voice. "Where's Commander Roscoe?"

"Up here!" cried Markham, crawling down the shaft. "Ned Regan! Head Center is out on the street disguised as one of your poor doughnuts!"

In the turmoil that followed Ned Regan's further remarks were lost. Women's voices might be heard below. There was evidence to show that Ned W. Regan was coming up.

Then, uncanny, inexplicable came a sound of silvery laughter! Regan, mounting laboriously, continued to talk. But in the black and gold room fell a silence of astonishment. The laughter had apparently come from someone among the group. But no woman was in the room!

"Is Commander Drake Roscoe there?" demanded a vibrant, feminine voice. Roscoe started, looked around him angrily.

"Who spoke?" he asked. Amid a deadly silence: "Great Head Centre speaking," said the arresting tone.

"You have delayed my plans, Commander Roscoe. New York is vacated temporarily, thanks to you. In fact, I must congratulate you. But, one day, we may meet. I shall win. Great Head Centre speaking."

"Point is," said the captain, "that although I am honored to place my cabin at your disposal, I can't hold the Ruritania three seconds after 1 o'clock. It is just 12:30."

Sir Harry Bristol was a charming host. He was also a very truculent specimen of a mercantile skipper. The big politician smiled soothingly. For a big politician he was a small man, but his face conveyed a definite impression of power.

A faint vibration communicated itself to the party assembled in the captain's room. It ceased.

"They're turning the engines over," Sir Harry went on. "My first officer will report inside two minutes. We carry mails and we sail on time." He looked at the clock. "If this missing member isn't here soon, your conference will be a short one, madame and gentlemen."

He glanced around at his guests. They were a notable company: one woman and seven men. The woman was charming—one of those elusive creatures commonly supposed to live only in the imagination of artists. The men were Commander Drake Roscoe, Dr. Stopford, ex-surgeon of the Ruritania; Ned W. Regan, famous private detective; Deputy Commissioner Burke, of police headquarters; the Page Sutton, one of America's wealthiest citizens; Peter Champion, the "lumber king"; and the big politician.

"I appreciate your position entirely, Sir Harry," said the politician. "He was interrupted by a rap on the door."

"Yes?" cried the captain. The door opened. The first officer appeared.

"K. K.," he reported laconically. "Very good. Carry on, Mr. Graham."

The first officer withdrew. "You understand, captain," said Regan, "that this party couldn't have assembled in any other place. Two of us are booked to sail. You know how we got aboard. You know how we aim to get ashore. This is a British ship and unless they bomb us we can reckon we're safe here from the Zones."

"That is, for another 25 minutes," the criminal known as the Emperor of America was operating in New York again," said Peter Champion, and brought down a large gnarled fist on to the chair arm. "It's costing me out Page Sutton a big piece of money to buy the information we're expecting tonight. But we have suffered enough. So has all the country."

"Excuse me butting in," said Stopford, "on such scanty information. But this sportsman who seems to have been unavoidably detained—how does he come to be at large? I've been away from your peaceful country. My impression was that there'd been a big bust-up of the gang."

"Some of the worst of the bunch slipped through," a voice explained. "The newspaper reports you read in Europe didn't lay undue stress on this point. They're operating again. We've established touch several times."

"It seems to me..." Stopford murmured. "He ceased speaking. There came a loud rap on the door. It was thrown open. A big man, heavily muffled, his hat brim pulled down to shade his face, burst into the cabin. . . ."

In a vault which suggested medieval Spain a horrible figure was seated. The vault, which appeared to have been hewn out of rock, was oval in shape; it was, in fact, a natural cavern, artificially perfected. The roof, composed of its walls and roof was dark green serpentine; so dark that it appeared black, having been refined to a glossy surface.

A greenish light pervaded the place. Somewhere, evidently a long way off—as though echoed and re-echoed through innumerable caverns, a sound of falling water was audible. Except for a long and narrow table set before the western wall and a high-backed Spanish chair ornamented with stamped leather, there was no furniture. In this chair the solitary figure was seated. Strange enough the vault—a serpentine bubble, a geological phenomenon in the bowels of Manhattan—the figure who occupied the place was stranger yet.

On the western side of the central column a speck of red light glowed. From none of the entrances did anyone appear. But a voice, as that of someone standing by the table, spoke. "H. Q.," said the voice. "Report of Divisional Chief C, in charge of party covering Divisional Chief B. The latter, Robert Mearns, leaving B headquarters in charge of a subordinate, proceeded at 10 minutes after midnight to the Ruritania. He is now aboard. According to orders he was covered, but not detained. Zone Officer 3-C has remained aboard. Standing by on boat deck for instructions. Group Master 2, sector 3-2 and Group Master 4, Sector 2-D-I, detailed for special duty, also remain on board, in charge of zone officer. Party in captain's cabin as before. Report ends."

"Report," directed the musical voice of the man, "of H. Q. patrol covering Divisional Chief C. "Report just to hand. H. Q. patrol confirms. Report ends."

"Your reports are unsatisfactory," he said, and his modulated tones spoke as through ice. "If I desire you to condense them, I shall order it. Unless I do so, make all reports in detail. This is an official reprimand. Do not repeat the report of H. Q. patrol. Give zone officer master covering Ruritania from the river, as received."

"To hand." The nasal tones were less confident. "Group Master 1, Sector 3-C-I, reports that all other visitors are now ashore. All mails aboard. Dock quiet. Ruritania's engines have been turned over. Chief officer at station. First officer at station. All set for pulling out. Time 12:41. Report ends."

Silence fell in the sea-black vault, broke only by that sound of distant falling water; then: "Instruct Zone Officer 3-C," said the musical voice, "to place group masters detailed for special duty at selected points commanding possible portholes of mander's cabin. Zone officer will be held responsible if both fail. Advise zone officer. Immediately Divisional Chief B is removed from the role, zone officer and group masters will report to Divisional Chief C, personally. Move."

Mrs. Henry Ashley Hingle and Mrs. C. W. Ham will be in charge of this affair, and they are arranging a delightful party for the junior set of the post to take place Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The children are invited to meet at the post chapel and eat lunch to the sound of music just beyond the parade ground, where the hunt will take place. The band of the 22d infantry will lead the march. Golfers of the military set are interested to know of the second golf tournament of the army and navy stationed at Fort McPherson and in Atlanta, which will be held Thursday afternoon at the Blue Rock Country Club. Luncheon will be served at the clubhouse at 12:30 o'clock and the participants are requested to meet at the north gate of the fort at a quarter past twelve. Sunday afternoon the polo game between the corps area team and the post team was an exciting spectacle, attracting a crowd of thousands of members of the Atlanta fashionable and the military set. The parade ground, with the background of forest trees, with the deep tones of the evergreens contrasting with the delicate greens of the newly leafed elms, made a picturesque background for the fleet-footed little ponies and their riders. Along the side lines were grouped the spectators, the ladies in colorful sports attire and the men in natty treeds and olive drab of the uniforms. Major General Frank Ross McCoy and Major General George H. Estes occupied their box with a party of friends, and Brigadier General George H. Estes and Mrs. Estes had a congenial party in their box.

The game was replete with thrills. The riding and excellent stick work of Lieutenant William Biddle was a feature. The corps team mounted General McCoy, Major Gustav H. Franke, Major Roland Gaugler, Lieutenant William Biddle and O. A. Shubert. The lineup for the post was Major G. I. Tolson, Captain Albert G. Wing, Lieutenant Spettie and Lieutenant Thomas Sherman Timberman. The game resulted in a 4-4 victory for the corps, the final goal by Lieutenant Biddle, in the sixth chukker, breaking the tie and bringing laurels for the day to the side of the corps.

Following the game the club entertained at a tea at the Officers' Club, with Mrs. Joseph O. Ensrud and Miss Patricia Donahue as official hostesses. The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a crystal bowl of woodland flowers in pale pink and white, while graceful sprays of dogwood were placed in tall brass jars and arranged on the mantel. Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Estes, Mrs. L. P. Seal, of Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. J. Haralson, of Augusta, Ark.; Mrs. W. F. Neill, of Dallas, Texas; and Mrs. J. Kirkwood Tunnah, of Little Rock, Ark., presided at the tea table. The sub-deb set of the post assisted in serving the guests, who numbered a hundred and fifty members of the garrison and civilian social circles.

Captain John R. Dinsmore and Mrs. Dinsmore and Captain Thomas H. Ramsey and Mrs. Ramsey were turned from a week-end spent in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Major J. Vincent Falisi and Mrs. Falisi left Saturday morning for New York, where Major Falisi will attend a medical convention. Later Major Falisi and Mrs. Falisi will enjoy a motor trip through Florida before returning to the garrison.

Mrs. Fincher Is Nominated For Woman's Club President

Mrs. Thornton M. Fincher, prominent Atlantian, whose name was brought in for president of Atlanta Woman's Club by the nominating committee at the open meeting held yesterday at the clubhouse on Peachtree street.

Mrs. Thornton M. Fincher, prominent Atlantian woman, was nominated for president of the Atlanta Woman's Club at the meeting of that organization which was held yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the club, the president, Mrs. John R. Hornady, presiding.

Other officers nominated were Mrs. W. P. Dunn, first vice president; Mrs. Harry G. Poole, second vice president; Mrs. O. C. Poundstone, recording secretary; Mrs. Victor Kreighshaber, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. W. A. Robertson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. P. Phillips, treasurer; Mrs. E. B. Davis, assistant treasurer, and Miss Virginia Hardin, auditor.

The ticket was accepted as presented by the nominating committee, which included Mrs. D. R. Wilder, chairman; Messdames Ira Farmer, Howard McCutcheon, W. F. Melton and Miss Cora Brown.

Mrs. Arthur Hazzard was nominated from the floor as auditor by Miss Virginia Hardin, but declined the nomination in favor of Miss Hardin, whose name was presented for that office by the nominating committee. Mrs. L. D. T. Quinby made a motion that the report of the nominating committee be tabled and that the nominations come from the floor, urging that a compromise candidate for president be named by the body in view of the fact that out of a total membership of 496 less than 25 per cent participated in the selection of the officers and that out of the 25 per cent Mrs. Irving Thomas received the majority of votes. Mrs. Hornady asked for a second to the motion. There was none. The motion was lost.

Mrs. Quinby, who was then denied the floor on a point of personal privilege, stated later she wished to state that the motion was aimed against factionalism and in no way was to be construed as a reflection on the choice of the nominating committee.

The ticket will be posted in the clubhouse, according to custom, two weeks before the time appointed for the election of officers, which will take place at the May meeting of the club.

Mrs. Fincher, who was nominated for president, is a prominent Atlantian woman, having been founder and organizer of the woman's board of Oglethorpe University; president of the North Avenue Church Society of Women; director in the Atlanta Child's Home, and while holding the latter office, managing the penny campaign fund which secured for the home a sun parlor named for the late Foster Coates, a well-known journalist who lived in Atlanta. Mrs. Fincher also served as director in the Churches Home for Girls and while in office was in charge of the formal opening of the Irving Thomas home on Capitol avenue. She has also been chairman with Mrs. Irving Thomas on the child welfare committee of the Atlanta Woman's Club. During their work together for years among the poor children in the mill districts and public schools, Mrs. Fincher and Mrs. Thomas donated yearly a Christmas tree for more than 300 Atlanta children. She is at the present time a member of the house committee of the Atlanta Woman's Club.

Announcement was made that the following will act as delegates from the club to the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs convention to be held in Macon May 6-9: Mrs. John R. Hornady, president; Mrs. Irving Thomas, Mrs. Harry Poole, Mrs. O. C. Poundstone, Mrs. T. C. Fincher, Mrs. W. P. Dunn and Mrs. W. S. Coleman. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Hazzard, showed a balance of $174.

Junior League Jottings

BY MRS. REGINALD SCOTT FLEET, Editor

With the opening of the conference of the Association of Junior Leagues of America in New York exactly two weeks from today, definite plans for this interesting event have been made. Mrs. Rhodes Haverly, the chairman of arts and interests for the Junior League, has forwarded our entries in the various exhibitions. Our record in Jacksonville was such a splendid one that it is hoped we shall capture some firsts in New York. We shall be represented by our marionette exhibit, by some beautiful needlework of Mrs. Winfrey Ramsey, a hooked rug and a petit-point bag, by two pictures of Mrs. Henry Tompkins' garden and of the lily pool of Mrs. Charles Orme, by a charming black and white drawing of the High Museum, executed by Miss Helena Calloway, and the wall paper design of Mrs. Preston Stevens. We shall also have an exhibit of the welfare work of the Junior League.

For our two delegates to the conference, Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., and Mrs. Robert Foreman, Jr., a most delightful time is in store. The opening event of the conference is the sight-seeing tour. The delegates have been given a choice of four tours and the Atlanta delegates have chosen the one of the financial district. They will lunch at the Broad Street Club and afterward will visit the financial district, the stock exchange, Trinity church, the city hall and will then close the tour with a drive around the Battery.

The opening dinner at the Plaza has been arranged by the Junior League entertainment bureau. For some time the New York Junior League has conducted an entertainment bureau at Saks, Fifth Avenue. Managed by Mrs. Chester Burden and Mrs. Robert Little, it has been a most successful business venture. At this dinner Mrs. John DeWitt Peltz, the president of the New York Junior League, will make the address of welcome to the delegates. Mrs. Fossitt Brown, the president of the association, will then speak. Other addresses will be made by Mrs. Winthrop Aldrich, chairman of the conference committee, and Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey, who, as Mary Harrison, was the founder of the Junior League. The officers of the association and the delegates will then be introduced.

The opening day of the four-day conference should indeed be an interesting one, making the delegates feel that New York had more than fulfilled its desire to show itself a hospitable city.

Though the pet parade, which has become an institution at the Eggleston Memorial hospital, will not be held until Saturday, May 10, plans for this event are also taking definite form. The Junior League will assist the committee formed for the pet parade. Mrs. William Campbell, Jr., is the chairman of a committee to secure and sell candy, cold drinks, ice cream and balloons. Twenty-five Junior League members will serve with Mrs. Campbell. Any child wishing to enter her pet, no matter what the pet may be, should communicate with Mrs. Stach Ernest Hill. Miss Margaret Nelson, a former president of the Junior League and a member of the auxiliary board of the hospital, is also giving her time to make the pet parade an even greater success this year.

Italian-Americans

Released From Army

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—Release of two Italian-Americans from the Italian army into which they had been drafted was reported to the state department today by Nobile Giacomo de Martino, the Italian ambassador. The two men are Costanzo Marini, Mount Vernon, N. Y., and Antonio Pizzuco, 708 Courtland avenue, Bronx, N. Y.

The ambassador told Acting Secretary Cotton that Marini was erroneously drafted into the Italian army because he did not show the necessary evidence to prove that he was exempt from military service.

The ambassador's call was made at his own suggestion to acquaint this government of the manner in which the long troublesome question of the naturalized American is being dealt with at present by the Mussolini government.

Selections by the Junior Girls' High School orchestra, directed by Miss Helen Goeppe, an invocation by Dr. W. F. Quillian, president of Wesleyan college, and an organ recital by Mrs. Albert A. Jinks, Macon, opened the meeting tonight. An address of welcome by Judge Malcolm D. Jones, Macon, in which he declared the city was literally built about a school—Academy square—was responded to by Mrs. Guy Wells, Collegeboro. Mrs. Charles A. Hillburn, Macon, assisting in presiding, presented officers of the state's financing of the common schools, urging the uniting of parents of all walks of life to the common end of education for all. In particular, she gave the opinion that more vocational education is needed.

Musical selections interspersed the program. After the meeting had been adjourned a reception was given the districts of the Georgia congress by the Parent-Teacher Associations of Macon.

Minister Kills Self.
FLOYD, Va., April 14.—(AP)—The body of the Solomon Hilton, 65, for 30 years a minister in the Brethren church of Floyd county, was found hanging from a small tree near his home this morning. The body was suspended by a white rein, and a small quantity of poison was discovered near by.

In her address, which brought the session to a close, Mrs. Miller declared the parent-teacher should be an extra good sportsman, strive for teamwork and co-operate with the school and state departments. She outlined that, with more leisure time available for women, the parent-teacher organization affords opportunity for interest in other children as well as in one's own, with a consequent broadening effect.

Declaring that the Georgia child will some day meet the competition of children from other states, Mrs. Miller emphasized the inadequacy of the state's financing of the common schools, urging the uniting of parents of all walks of life to the common end of education for all. In particular, she gave the opinion that more vocational education is needed.

Tippler's 'Bike' Ride Costs Fifty Dollars

EVANSTON, Ill., April 14.—(AP)—Mr. August Woltman, who rides a bicycle, has been fined $50 for doing so while intoxicated.

Woltman used to drive an automobile, but more recently he has transported himself bicyclically. One thing the police did not approve was Woltman's practice of riding crosswise of the streets instead of lengthwise.

Judge Samuel Harrison ordered payment of the fine yesterday.

The Evanston bicycle traffic laws are unusually strict. Not so long ago a butler in the employ of former Vice President Dawes got into trouble because he didn't have a red tail light on his bike. In that case, however, the question of sobriety was not involved, and Jenkins—for the butler's name was indeed Jenkins—was freed with nothing worse than a warning.

Mrs. Edson Wins Handcraft Prize At Southern States League Exhibit

Mrs. W. McLellan Edson, of Tiger, whose exhibition of pewter is on view at the High Museum of Art, has been awarded the prize for handcraft in enamel work at the exhibition of the Southern States Art League which is being held at the Delgado academy, New Orleans, La., according to word received here by Lewis P. Skidmore, director of the High Museum of Art. The award carries a distinct honor as the work of artists from all sections of the south are on view at the academy.

The prize was awarded for a Spanish galleon, similar to the pendant shown at the High museum recently in Mrs. Edson's collection of jewelry, carved crystal, necklaces artistically linked with silver, enameled boxes and beads. Her work has received the unstinted praise of art critics on previous occasions. She has exhibited in Boston, Mass.; Buffalo, N. Y., and New York city, having received in these cities numerous prizes for her work. One of her enameled silver spoons was bought by the Japanese government for the permanent collection of American craftsmanship at the Kyoto museum, Kyoto, Japan. The announcement of the award will be of wide interest here to a wide circle of friends of Mrs. Edson, who has often visited here. Her collections have been shown upon many occasions at the High museum and at the Atlanta Woman's Club, where she has lectured upon "Enamels" and "Lied Subjects." She has upon several occasions been the guest of Mrs. Beaumont Davison and Mrs. Walter Hill, of this city.

Lambs Prove Source Of 'Agonized Voices'

NEW YORK, April 14.—(AP)—Mary heard a little lamb.

The stock exchange was closed and so Mary, who was on duty in one of Manhattan's telephone exchanges never thought of lambs at all. She just told the officer on the police switchboard that "agonized voices" were coming in on a line.

Two policemen were sent to investigate. They found two spring lambs springing about in the bushes of John Catenas in James street, near Wall Street. The lambs had knocked the telephone receiver off the hook and were broadcasting their bleats.

The patrolmen awakened Catenas who corralled the lambs in his living quarters above the shop.

Virginia Lady Tells Of Long Benefit From Use of Thedford's Black-Draught.

WYTHEVILLE, Va.—Mrs. C. R. Suthers, who lives on the Lee Highway here, says that she used to suffer severely from headache and was relieved by taking a well-known powdered herb medicine.

"It seemed like I could not hold up my head," explains Mrs. Suthers, describing her headache trouble. "I would be so nauseated I would just lie in bed and suffer. I would not want anyone to touch my head. For days, after I had these headaches, my eyeballs would be so sore I could hardly bear to touch them."

"I read of Black-Draught and began taking it. After I had used it for some time, it seemed to regulate the bowels and I only had a few more headaches. I took Black-Draught to ward off constipation and it kept off the headaches."

"I have not had one of those severe headaches in fifteen years. When I have a bad taste in my mouth, and don't feel quite well, I take a dose of Black-Draught, and that is about all the medicine I have taken in about twenty years."

Costs only 1 cent a dose.

Red Sox Trim Washington, 4-to-3, in First Major Game of Season

CRACKERS OPEN TODAY WITH CHATTANOOGA

RED SOX BEAT SENATORS, 4 TO 3 IN FIRST GAME

Hoover, Crowd of 25,000 In Attendance At Season Opening.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—Rallying in the eighth inning, Boston scored two runs off Braxton, then left-handed, to down Washington, 4 to 3, in the opening game of the American league baseball season.

Led by President Hoover, officialdom was represented by a small army. Enough cabinet members were present for a meeting and a roll call would probably have disclosed a quorum of both the house and senate.

HOOVER HURLS BALL.
The president entered the stadium just before game time and took a seat in the presidential box by Secretary Mellon, only to arise a moment later to toss out the first ball. As was the case last year, his arm seemed strong, but his control was a bit off. The ball shot past an umpire and was headed off by a Red Sox player.

Mr. Hoover remained until the end of the eighth inning. He watched the game closely, leaning forward a little in tense moments, and he frequently made some comment to those around him after a fast play. He applauded vigorously after Marberry, Washington pitcher, doubled in the sixth.

Embracing the officials and congressmen was a crowd estimated at 25,000, put into good humor by a warm, hazy spring day.

HARD-FOUGHT GAME.
The game was hard fought and few spectators were moving toward the exits when the final out came.

The Washington club scored one run off Danny MacFadyen, best pitcher of the Red Sox right-hander, in the first inning on singles by Rice, Goslin and Cronin, but the rally was abruptly checked after Heving, Boston catcher, took Judge's pop fly in front of the plate and lined to third, doubling Goslin.

Boston tied in the fourth on Oliver's single and Todd's two-bagger, but Marberry's two-hitter in the fifth sent Judge and Ruel scurrying across the plate, giving his team what appeared at the time to be a safe lead.

Marberry weakened in the seventh and after one run had been scored Braxton checked the rally, only to lose the game in the next inning.

SENATORS HELD.
MacFadyen gave way to a pinch hitter in the seventh and Smith, displaying a good fast ball and sweeping curve, held Washington safe. West doubled with two down in the ninth, but Oliver took Goslin's line drive in center after a short run.

Neither team made an error, and West, Oliver, Scarritt and Rice heartened their pitchers with some exciting catches. Scarritt, in the eighth, backed against the left field barrier to pull down a healthy drive by Cronin.

'Big' Ed Walsh Leaves Hospital
MERIDEN, Conn., April 14.—(AP)—"Big" Ed Walsh, pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, was discharged today from the Meriden hospital where on March 27 he was operated on for appendicitis and peritonitis. Walsh will take a rest of several weeks before resuming his duties as scout for the White Sox.

For the last time on any stage: The Red Sox are leading the American league. Look quickly!!

THOROUGHLY OPENED.
Never in the history of the game have there been so many openings of the season, so many wild pitches from the grandstand, so many sore-armed executives.

President Hoover left the Washington ball park to have his arm rubbed yesterday in the eighth inning. Others in the American league and the National confederation open today.

So do four of the Southern league centers. Little Rock and Mobile open Wednesday. Atlanta and Birmingham open Thursday.

An opening a day keeps the doctor busy with the arms of mayors and presidents.

CRACKER HEADS IN EARNEST.
Here are two exclusive interviews with Cracker executives that should be printed as the Crackers go to the post:

R. J. Spiller: "I have been in baseball a pretty long time now but I never wanted to win a pennant as bad as I do this year. We have got to win if we have to keep one ball club coming, one playing and one going away."

Johnny Dobbs: "I had it pretty soft over at Birmingham. The team was set for this year. You can bet your last dollar that I did not come over to Atlanta to manage a second division club."

With that spirit in the office and on the bench fans can be assured of plenty of action. The gentlemen behind the Crackers are undoubtedly in earnest.

LOW GRADING US.
Out of a pile of telegrams from baseball writers around the circuit in which they expressed their opinion as to how the teams would finish on basis of present strength, one stands as the prize puzzle of the flour.

Old Gummy Flouny, of Mobile, who has been watching baseball teams—good, bad and indifferent—scuffle around in the park by the gulf for 25 years more or less, has tied in traffic on this desk.

Gummy sent in his election; and for the life of me I cannot determine whether he is in earnest or having a huge joke at his own.

Gummy guesses the finish as follows:
1—Mobile. 2—Chattanooga. 3—Memphis. 4—Birmingham.
5—Little Rock. 6—Nashville. 7—New Orleans. 8—Atlanta.

Reverse that order and the selection would look almost as reasonable. Maybe that's what Gummy meant—counting from the bottom up.

BEARS WIN CELLAR WITHOUT STRUGGLE.
Gummy's voice is as the voice of one crying in the wilderness on a windy night. His is the only voice proclaiming Mobile as a probable pennant winner.

The other great minds with strange unanimity announce Mobile as EIGHTH. The Bears have been unanimously elected to the cellar or would have been had Gummy not put in his vote.

In addition to picking Mobile to win, Gummy gives the Barons no better than fourth place; New Orleans no better than seventh and the Crackers last!! Is he in earnest?

LAY OFF OUR BOYS.
Now it is all right for the master minds of the home town to say that the Crackers look like a fifth place club or at best no better than third place on present prospects.

We talk about our boys because they are our boys after all. But it is painful to see the others have such a low opinion of us. It makes us mad.

That may be why I am dragging all this out on Gummy. I am doing it in a mean spirit so at the finish he can be confronted with the goods.

LUCKY FRED SAYS.
Fred Digby of the New Orleans Item picks the Pelicans to win and posts the Crackers in fifth place. Fred has picked the winner every year since 1925 when he picked the Crackers to win. Wish Fred had notched the Crackers a peg higher; he is lucky that way.

Herbert Caldwell in the Commercial Appeal sees the Crackers as good as third place. He likes Birmingham to win.

Freddie Russell, the young Nashville expert, also likes the Barons and places the Crackers sixth. His placing of the Vols in second place undoubtedly was due to the old spirit which is commendable but dangerous.

Bill Keefe picks the Pelicans and places the Crackers fourth.

The others leap about from Memphis to Birmingham and back in their winning guesses and nearly all place the Crackers in second division.

This department repeats that it cannot see how the Crackers can finish worse than fourth, no matter what happens. If the home nine cannot get out of the rut this season, I for one definitely will give up.

Battalino Wins.
WATERBURY, Conn., April 14.—Bat Battalino, world's featherweight champion, knocked out Benny Nabers, of New York, after 30 seconds of fighting in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round non-title bout here tonight. Battalino weighed 130, Nabers 132 3-4.

Rain Predicted For Game Today
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 14.—Rainy weather is predicted for the game here Tuesday, according to a late weather report issued here tonight.

AL SIMMONS REFUSES PACT OF ATHLETICS

Connie Mack States "It Is Impossible To Reach An Agreement."

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 14.—(AP)—Connie Mack, manager of the world's champion Athletics, today refused to discuss Simmons' status, but late today he admitted that Simmons had not yet signed a contract for 1930.

Throughout the training season, the tall manager of the A's consistently refused to discuss Simmons' status, but late today he admitted that Simmons had not yet signed a contract for 1930.

Will Be Missing.
Unless there is an overnight agreement between Mack and his star outfielder, the hard-hitting fly catcher will be missing from the opening game with the New York Yankees at Shibe Park tomorrow.

"When Mr. Simmons returned his contract unsigned in January," said a typewritten announcement from Mack, "I did not think that we would have any trouble in signing him because the tone of his letter led me to believe that he would come to a satisfactory agreement. Mr. Simmons suggested we wait until he arrived at the training camp, at which time we would talk the matter over."

"When Mr. Simmons asked that he be allowed to remain at Hot Springs, Ark., and not come to Florida, this met with my approval, and the request was granted."

Failed to Agree.
"Then when Mr. Simmons arrived in Philadelphia, after we held a conference with him pertaining to his contract, I found it impossible to come to an agreement with him."

Manager Mack would say nothing as to the salary Simmons was demanding and would make no other comment except that he made the announcement of Simmons' status because he did not want fans to come to the Athletics-Yankee game and be disappointed in not seeing Simmons in the outfield.

Simmons would not talk. His friends said he would pack up and return home to Milwaukee unless he and Mack came to terms soon. Spencer Harris, who was with the Minneapolis club of the American Association last year, probably will be seen in the A's outfield tomorrow.

Yachts Launched For Trophy Races

NEW YORK, April 14.—(UN)—Launching of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V, and the Enterprise, first of the four American contenders for the honor of defending the America's cup, today marked the start of what promises to be the greatest of yachting seasons.

Enterprise was launched at the historic Herreshoff yards in Bristol, R. I., which have built every successful American cup contender since the Vigilant 1876 winner. Shamrock V took its dip at Gosport, England.

British yachtsmen believe the Shamrock V has the best chance for victory of any British boat since the races were inaugurated in 1851 when the schooner yacht America defeated 14 of England's best in a race around the world.

The Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth contender, since he entered America's cup competition in 1899, will be tried out on the Solent lake in May in a series of races under auspices of the Royal Thames Yacht Club. It will sail to America later in the summer and complete preparations in this country.

Observation will be held July 7-14 and August 20-30 off Newport. Results of these races will determine the selection of the American contender to meet the Shamrock V.

The cup races are scheduled for the winner to be decided on the basis of the best three out of five races.

Waycross Tourney Closes Thursday

WAYCROSS, Ga., April 14.—The annual tournament for men of the Oklawaha Golf Club will come to a close Thursday afternoon, April 17. This is a medal play tournament and a number of prizes are being awarded. The fourth and final round of the tournament must be played by 11 participants Thursday afternoon.

The prizes are: Lowest net score of the tournament, the president's loving cup; second lowest net score of the tournament, six golf balls; third lowest net score of the tournament, three golf balls; fourth lowest score of the tournament, one golf ball.

In addition to these prizes, a local firm is offering a pair of golf shoes for the lowest net score made Thursday afternoon.

The committee in charge of the tournament is Larry Hedrick, chairman; Jerome Crawley and H. A. Stallings.

Crackers Miss Falling Elevator

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 14.—Atlanta batters narrowly missed being present at their hotel when an elevator accident occurred.

Shortly before they arrived here one of the elevators at the hotel where they are stopping fell and injured nine people. The Crackers took it as an omen of good luck.

"We missed the bad luck," they said. "Maybe the breaks will be good ones for us."

Today's the Day

HEYDLER SEES GREATEST YEAR

National League Begins 55th Consecutive Season of Play Tuesday.

By John A. Heydler, President of the National League.

NEW YORK, April 14.—(AP)—As an index of American sport stability and soundness, let me say that Tuesday will be the National League's fifty-fifth opening day. It will also be the thirty-ninth consecutive season of the eight contending clubs will represent the same eight cities.

Four of these clubs—New York, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Chicago—among them have won the last nine championships. These continue to be clubs of unquestioned class. Yet so well has the rear brigade been strengthened that one or two of the leaders may be crowded out of the first division before the end of the 167 calendar days required by our shortened schedule.

Brooklyn, with good pitching and all-around reserve force, may well prove to be a factor.

PHILLIES FEARED.
Philadelphia, none too strong in pitchers, but with youth and a powerful attack, may likewise work its way among the leaders.

Cincinnati, improved, and with new spirit and aggressive leadership, is to be reckoned with, while Boston, now started on a sound and liberal rebuilding program, is already showing results.

One-half of our clubs will have new managers. Howley, McKeechnie, Eng and Street are four men of ability and of high

As essential as managers and players will be the umpires. There will be three new ones—Ted McGrew, Bob Clarke and Mike Donohue. All have had ample minor league experience, with six weeks of training this spring.

GAME OKAY.
The game itself is in splendid health, with countrywide interest in college, school and sandlot ball greater than ever before. Playground authorities report they are unable to meet by one-half the increased requests for baseball space, and the American League's nationwide tourney for boys has grown so that over 350,000 boys are booked to take part in this great vacation-time competition.

The only hazard the sport faces is bad weather. There have been six unfavorable seasons. The prophets venture that the seventh will bring an old-time summer. Should this promise come true, then confidently believe that in every way we shall have the greatest season the national game has ever known.

Griffiths Offered Crack at Von Porat

CHICAGO, April 14.—(AP)—Tuffy Griffiths and Otto Von Porat, Chicago's ranking heavyweights, will meet in May at the Chicago Coliseum—if Griffiths defeats Jack Gagnon on April 30.

Matchmaker Nate Lewis has signed up Von Porat and plans to hold the bout May 14 or 28. If Griffiths wipes out Gagnon's recent technical knock-out victory, the Sioux City (Iowa) and Chicago puncher will get the assignment. If Gagnon wins Lewis has indicated he will give the Boston heavy the shot.

GREAT SEASON IN SOUTHERN IS PREDICTED

Several Clubs Stronger This Year and Expect To "Be In There."

By Ralph McGill, Constitution Staff Correspondent.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 14. Atlanta's entry in the thirtieth annual renewal of the Southern Association baseball flag chase arrived here tonight almost at the same time, having left their home depot at 6 o'clock, central standard time this very same evening.

They were watered and bedded down almost immediately on arrival because they are here to inaugurate Tuesday afternoon at Engle stadium (nee Andrews field), the annual custom of stretching in the seventh inning and naming the umpires from first to ninth, inclusive.

BLETHEN ON HILL.
Old Climax Blethen, the mighty Maine moose hunter, will be in there throwing with his right arm if Bill Rodgers comes up a right-handed batting order.

Old John Cyrus (Red) Oldham, the grand old ham what am, will be in there scotching with his left arm if Bill Rodgers sticks at his southpaw hitters in there.

Either way the Crackers will have good throwing. And what they have to face, my word! None other than old Lute Roy, the ex-Vol, ex-Pel, ex-Baron, ex-Indian and maybe a few more X's, who knows. And everyone knows that Lute Roy is quite a thrower.

FANS ARE "RED HOT."
The Crackers will face a hostile audience. Because the Chattanooga folks expect to throw off the blankets in the morning, scream wildly and rush out to the ball lot and start yelling for gone, great gods of humankind, these here folks from Atlanta be human.

They have gone baseball gaga up here at Chattanooga, Tenn.-O. S. One never can tell what a diet of riches will do. Old Pappy Joe Engel came right into their midst and slapped down 200 grand, as the boys say. He took the boys right off the pine boards and put them in chairs. He brought real ball players in from the coast and from the inland West and the Chattanooga folks are that excited.

They have it here. Old Pappy Joe is a grand guy and if he isn't a civic asset then neither is the national bank system. And the Chattanooga folks are—and just try to get one out of a bank.

HAS REAL CLUB.
He has built them a ball team that has the experts say. The boys are the boys who guess in April and hope the fans will forget the guesses by September. Some day a smart baseball bug is going to clip out an expert's guess and show it to him in September. And embarrass him no little.

Engel, with his rowdy-cattening manager, Bill Rodgers, have an organization that leads off with Wild Mathews and includes Willie Dashiell, Charley Gooch, Elliott Higelow, Bobby Lammie, Ray Trammell, Cowan, Tomlin, Eddie Kenna, Chick Howard and Lute Roy. That's the bunch that will be in there today.

Squire John Dobbs, of the Crackers, will have a lineup in there. But try and find out what it will be. Dick Burris will be at first base. Jack Sheehan will be at second. From there on over the lineup is fabulous. Milton Stock, regular third baseman, has been ailing with a game leg. He may start. And he may not. Leo Ruder, last year with Mac and Jim Battle, utility man, will fill the place. Jim Johnston, former Chattanooga skipper, will be at third or short.

WALKERS ARE ALLING.
Elton (Sam) Landrum and Frank Walker, outfielders, have not put on spikes in three days because of bad legs. In fact, a report on the Crackers' sound almost like one emanating from a football camp just before the most important game of the year. The two outfielders, along with St. Louis, the sound one, will start, however.

The remainder of the squad is in good shape. Arch Yelle will be in the pen. And the pitcher will be chosen as soon as Squire Dobbs sees the Chattanooga starting lineup. No, not the one in the paper. The one that goes on the field.

The Crackers are not expected to start fast. They have had so many injuries that they have been unable to work together as a unit for as many as one time all spring. All of which does not make for success in any team game.

HOME THURSDAY.

Pels Start Out After 9th Flag

When Southern league gets off this season the New Orleans Pelicans will be seeking their ninth pennant since the inception of the loop in 1901.

The Pels present top the list with eight flags. Atlanta stands second with six, while Birmingham is close with five. Memphis and Nashville are pushing with four each. Little Rock and Mobile have each won the crown once, and Chattanooga is still staggering along without a pennant.

Last year's final standing, in which the Barons pulled out of their third place, follows:

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Birmingham	30	23	.565
Memphis	28	25	.528
New Orleans	28	25	.528
Atlanta	25	28	.471
Little Rock	25	28	.471
Mobile	23	31	.430
Chattanooga	22	32	.407

College Baseball.

Michigan vs. Vanderbilt 7. Springfield Hill 4; Wisconsin 4. Duke 6; Wake Forest 2. Washington and Lee 16-7; North Carolina 8-4. University of Mississippi 6; Louisiana State University 6 (10 innings).

Close Race Predicted as Southern League Teams Go To Barrier

BARONS, SEEKING THIRD PENNANT, FACE NASHVILLE

Southeastern Clubs Start Chase Today; Prospects Are Bright.

The annual pennant chase in two Dixie baseball leagues—the Southern association and the Southeastern league—gets under way on widespread fronts today as the teams face the barrier in the opening games.

Birmingham's Barons, pointing for their third successive bunting, tackle the Volunteers at Nashville in one of the Southern association openers, and President John Martin will be among those viewing the Atlanta-Chattanooga clash in the Tennessee city. Little Rock starts at Memphis and Mobile opens at New Orleans.

Each city will be striving for a record attendance in the hopes of obtaining the attendance trophies awarded each year. One trophy is presented to the member of the "Big Four"—Atlanta, New Orleans, Birmingham and Memphis—having the largest first-game crowd, while another trophy is given to the team representing the city among the other four association members having the most paid admissions.

Pre-season opinions expressed along the baseball front have it that 1936 will see the closest Southern race in many years, with every team in the loop prepared to wage a great battle for the flag.

In the Southeastern league, the champion Montgomery Lions find their opening volley at Columbus, Ga. Jacksonville's Tars meet the Tampa Snappers in Tampa, and Pensacola starts off in Selma.

Bob, Evans, Hagen Most Consistent

The most consistent men in golf are and have been Chick Evans, Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones. They blazed long trails of triumph, Evans and Hagen have perhaps passed the peak. But Jones succeeded Evans among the amateurs and Horton Smith looks like a worthy successor to Hagen among the pros.

The firm of Smith & Jones should go far in the golf business. Bobby, the amateur, already is firmly established as a star, but has many good years ahead of him. He started very early.

Smith, too, started early. He is much younger than Jones. He should also have many good years.

Those two young men should prove the two greatest golfers of their classes, amateur and professional.

Smith is well beyond the "morning glory" stage. Two good winters in a row confirm his greatness. Many pros have one good year but only a few had two together.

Good old family names are Smith and Jones—golf family names.

Files Show Baseball Changes Very Little

They have made rabbits' nests out of baseballs and raised the salaries to a very high plane, but all in all the game hasn't changed such a great deal. A look into the past reveals that.

Back in 1901 they opened the Southern association just as they will this afternoon. Atlanta wasn't in the league then. Neither was Mobile. There were Shreveport and Selma in their places. Selma is in the Southeastern now. Shreveport is in the Texas.

Opening day that year was just like any other day except that a crowd of 2,000 people was something to tell people about. Following are stories of the openers taken from The Constitution files:

1920 STYLE.
The Barons were in their 1920 style in 1901 when they opened that year. They took Selma over the jumps but then they lost to Selma.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2.—Birmingham took the first game from Selma today by the score of 3 to 1 in the presence of 2,500 persons. Wilhelm and Cribbons were both in fine form and pitched great ball. Leidy, of Birmingham, caught eight fly balls in deep center. Score: B. H. E.
Birmingham..... 000 120 000—3 9 7
Selma..... 000 000 000—0 0 0
Batteries: Wilhelm and Cribbons; Cribbons and Alexander.

VOLS AND LOOKOUTS.
Those dear old Vols and Lookouts were in rare old Vol and Lookout form in 1901. Until last year when Clarence Rowland got in there it was always a terrible thing when those two teams met. And the style started in 1901. There was a great reluctance about settling the thing.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 2.
The Southern league season opened here this afternoon between Chattanooga and Nashville. Both teams were in bad form and the game was noticeable for loose playing. Pitchers of both teams were hit hard. The game was won by Nashville in the tenth inning by a base on balls, a sacrifice hit and a single. Score: B. H. E.
Chattanooga..... 012 055 020—0—15 16 3
Nashville..... 013 041 000—1—15 16 3
Batteries: Clayton, Morris and Keith; Corbett, Hill and Clayton.

TIMES CHANGE.
Times have changed, even in Little Rock. One has only to look to see. They opened there in 1901 with Memphis. And just look at the crowd.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 2.—Memphis won the opening game from Little Rock by bunching hits and good base running. It was a hard-fought game and the crowd was moved to enthusiastic demonstration at many plays. Attendance 1,100. Score: B. H. E.
Memphis..... 000 040 310—3 9 7
Little Rock..... 101 011 000—4 12 1
Batteries: Robb and Swadina; Mulkey and Abbott.

PELS STARTED WELL.
New Orleans started well in 1901 and has never lost the habit, as others have. Oh, my yes. How some of them have lost it. The Pelicans opened at Shreveport. Just look at the errors.

SHREVEPORT, La., May 2.—The opening game of league ball between the local nine and New Orleans was presented today before a large audience and resulted in a defeat for Shreveport. In the second inning the visitors batted Fisher at will and scored six runs. Score: B. H. E.
Shreveport..... 000 301 000—3 9 7
New Orleans..... 000 102 022—11 11 9
Batteries: Fisher and McGuire; Mulkey and Abbott.

FIRST DODO.
Walter Meeks scored his first hole-in-one Sunday afternoon at Capital City Club while playing with some friends. The dodo came on the 12th green, a par three 140-yard hole. His tee shot landed within a few inches of the cup and rolled in.

Earl Sande Fails In Race at Bowie
BALTIMORE, April 14.—(AP)—Earl Sande, once America's premier jockey, returned to the saddle in the sixth race at Bowie today after a year's experience as trainer and owner. He was up on F. Hayes' Rock Slide but failed to finish in the money.

In my above cartoon I am giving the fans an opportunity to vote on the way they think the clubs in the National league will finish next fall.

Send in your ballots, fans, and in the next few weeks I will give the results of the nation-wide opinion of the followers of the sport that make the game possible.

Do you think the Cubs will repeat?

Will the "dark horse" Phillies, with their slugging outfit headed by O'Doul and Klein, do a little history-repeating of the old Phillies of 1915, who were piloted by a pennant by Pat Moran?

Will Bill McKeehan at Boston become another "miracle man" like George Stallings in 1914?

Will the "dark horse" Pirates, with their slugging outfit headed by O'Doul and Klein, do a little history-repeating of the old Pirates of 1915, who were piloted by a pennant by Pat Moran?

CRACKERS OPEN SEASON TODAY IN CHATTANOOGA

Great Race Seen as Southern League Starts Annual Chase.

Tuesday and Wednesday, returning home for the Atlanta opening on Thursday.

The remainder of the league gets away Tuesday also. Birmingham and Memphis are the two teams most favored with the Lookouts and Travelers as the dark horses. In fact the Lookouts got a heavy play from the experts, and are generally picked to be in there battling for the lead from the very start.

New Orleans, after looking very weak all spring, suddenly assumed its usual strong appearance and now figures to be up there.

VOLS NOT SO HOT.
Nashville, minus Pitchers Del Lundgren and Benny Frey, Jimmy Horn and another one or two of the 1935 team, doesn't figure as a first division outfit with this reporter.

Little Rock, with only two apparent weaknesses, one in the infield and another behind the plate, may come along well if Manager Jack Steele can handle his men, something he hasn't done successfully in the past.

Mobile, with a lot of anonymous ball players, is perhaps the strongest team in the league in that the Mobile Bears are pretty sure to have to hold all the other boys up in league standing this season.

SILVA, WIERNER GO.
The Cracker business office completed some business before the team departed. Doc Silva and Lefty Wierner were added to the list of those given outright releases.

Lee Meadows, right-handed pitcher, was signed but his contract will not be filed until the team returns from Chattanooga. There is an excellent chance that Meadows may pitch the opening game in Atlanta.

Jim Brice left today for Springfield, Ill., in the Three-leaf league.

Bull Hanch has not yet been placed. The Crackers have not yet decided whether to lift Johnny Jones' suspension and sell him to Memphis. The Crackers want him.

Glazner To Open For New Orleans.
NEW ORLEANS, April 14.—(AP)—With 15 players opening the season for the New Orleans Pelicans, Manager Larry Gilbert today announced that Whitey Glazner would be the starting moundman tomorrow against the Mobile Bears.

The opening day line-up follows: Montague, ss; Powers, rf; Eichardt, cf; Blakesley, lf; Taylor, 1b; Detore, 3b; Wambach, c; Harrington, 2b; Anderson, c; and Glazner, p. Local fans were somewhat surprised to hear that Benney Karr the veteran speed ball pitcher, was not included in the list. He will be cut loose and Howell Conklin, a young submarine ball hurler, will be retained in his place.

Dodo Flourishes In Little Rock
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 14.—(AP)—Little Rock golfers are getting good or else so many play that percentage favors holes in one.

Anyway three aces were scored on local courses today, making a total of four in the past two days. Harry Lasker joined the rapidly-growing group of hole-in-ones on the Concordia Country Club course today and John Wakeman and C. J. Shaw did the same thing on the Fair Park links. Yesterday Walter Baumeister scored an ace on a hole on the Fair Park course that hitherto had defied attempts at a single shot.

Witnesses were present at all of the holes in one.

Jacket Fencers Meet Emory Today

Georgia Tech's fencing squad, with its status officially determined under the new R. O. T. C. sponsorship and title, is to engage in its first collegiate competition this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Tech gym. Emory University's fencers will furnish the opposition in this first test for the Jackets. The Jackets take on their first conference foes Saturday afternoon when they travel to Chapel Hill to meet the Tarheels of the University of North Carolina.

Green Optimistic For Southeastern

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 14.—(AP)—Cliff Green, president of the Southeastern league, today was optimistic as regards the prospects for the season which opens tomorrow with the six clubs as a whole strengthened over last year.

"With the reduction of salaries and the elimination of the transportation problem we have every reason to expect a good season," Green said. "We will have faster baseball than most people expect, and the split season will have a wholesome effect."

Indications are that it is "anybody's race" in the Southeastern as the teams prepare to square away tomorrow on the first half fight which closes on July 2.

The first half will consist of 70 games, with the opening seeing Pensacola's Niers at Selma battling the Cloverleafs; the Montgomery Lions at Columbus to entertain the Foxes, and the Jacksonville Tars at Tampa.

The Cincinnati Reds released outfielder Earl Webb to Washington for a cash consideration.

Darlington High Beats U.S.B. Netmen

Darlington High's tennis team added another victim to its string Monday afternoon at Piedmont park when the University school team was beaten, 5 to 0. Darlington has not lost a tennis match in over two years and it was the first time this year that George Boynton, of University, has been defeated in a singles match.

Yankees and Reds Release Players

NEW YORK, April 14.—(UN)—Major league clubs began to cut their squads today. The New York Yankees released Pitcher American Felli, last year with St. Paul, outright to the Louisville A. A. club and put Pitcher Bill Henderson out on option to the Jersey City International league team, where he played last season.

Major Leagues to Open Season Today With All Old-Time Tumult

BALMY WEATHER IS SCHEDULED FOR JUMP-OFF

Red Sox, Senators Get One-Day Start On Other Teams.

By Alan Gould.
Associated Press Sports Editor.
Airplanes may buzz overhead, droves may fly thicker than ever on the golf courses and pop may be disguised by the use of paper cups but the good old-fashioned American game of baseball comes into its own again today—all along the major league battlefield.

TIMES CHANGED.
Times have changed and so has the game that one time featured bears and sacrifice hits instead of $80,000 salaries and home runs, but it is still the grand old national pastime, with all the tumult and shouting, the band-playing, the flag-raising and the kids who share with grizzled fans the thrills of opening day.

With the balmy touches of spring to paint a seasonable background, the 16 teams of the National and American leagues today complete the swing into action that was begun appropriately in the national capital yesterday.

The SPORTLIGHT

Grantland Rice Individual Stars.

The two big league pennant races, now under way, are only a part of baseball's story. The various battles among individual stars will again be one of the sporting features of the next six months when such entries as Babe Ruth, Lefty O'Doul, Babe Herman, Charles Herbert Klein, Mel Ott, Rogers Hornsby, Bob Grove and a few others step into the picture on the personal side.

The Babe again remains the central figure in baseball's spring and summer melodrama. With the exception of one season he has been the home run ruler for ten years, but as one passes 36 the odds begin to pile up. He has a flock of younger hitters shooting at his crown this season and one of them may knock it off.

The Babe is no Tennysonian brook, so he can't keep on forever. But he still has enough left to be rated above any pursuer, provided his venerable legs don't fall apart. The National league has two warm personal feuds that will be re-enacted. One is the home run war between Klein, of the Phillies, and Ott, of the Giants, both kids who are now on their way to grab Ruth's crown when it falls from his clammy brow. They were neck and neck last season and they look to be the pick for 1930.

The second feud brings Lefty O'Doul and Babe Herman back into the picture with Hornsby again giving chase for the batting leadership of the older league. Here is the way the top order finished last fall: O'Doul .398, Herman .381, Hornsby .380. The Cub veteran is keen to lead the grand march one more season and beat Hans Wagner's record, but he will need one of his best years, to say nothing of a well-manicured heel that won't curb his speed in getting down to first.

The Leading Pitcher.

Who will be the leading pitcher for 1930? Last season Earnshaw, of the Athletics, won 24 games and lost 8. Grove won 20 and dropped 6. Malone won 22 and lost 10.

Has the 30-game winner passed out of baseball? No one has reached or slipped beyond this mark in many years. Where is the Walsh who won 45 battles one season and saved 12 others? Or the Matty who won more than 30 games three years in a row? Or the Johnson and the Alexander who stepped out beyond the 30 mark more than once with only fair ball clubs? There ought to be a pitcher in each league good enough to win 30 games but it will be a poor bet to put up any cash along this line. The main trouble now is finding a pitcher who can pitch 30 games.

Strongest Departments.

The two best pitching staffs belong to the Athletics in the American league and to the Cubs in the National.

The two best outfields belong to the same teams. The Cubs have Stephenson, Wilson and Cuyler primed again. The Athletics have Simmons, Miller and Hays. The Phillies have a strong hitting pair in O'Doul and Klein but for all-around value the two pennant winners of 1929 are out in front as far as outfield talent goes.

Where is the best infield located? There doesn't seem to be any great infield in either league. What infield now around can match Chance, Evers, Tinker and infield of the old Cubs—McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker, of the Athletics—or Kelly, Frisch, Bancroft and Groh, of the 1923 Giants?

Neither the Cub nor the Athletic infield is up to the rest of the east. You could say this in the last world series. They were just a pair of infield largely featured by the hitting strength of one or two men. Jimmy Foxx, of the Athletics, is a great all-around ball player, but only a fair first baseman. Hornsby has lost a lot of his old speed around second, but he is still a great ball player.

The Giants have a good set in Terry, Jackson and Lindstrom, but McGraw has still to prove he is a high class second baseman to work where Frisch once starred.

Veterans and Kids.

Another big league feature which catches the attention of the outside populace each April is the showing of certain veterans and certain kids.

Jack Quinn, of the Athletics, is now 46. Alexander, of the Phillies is 42. Wesley Ferrell, of Cleveland, who won 21 games last year, is 23. Quinn and Alexander were good pitchers before Ferrell was born.

The star kids of the game are Foxx, of the Athletics, 23; Ott, of the Giants, 21, and Klein, of the Phillies, 25. They all have baseball sensations in one way or another, largely through their ability to hit 'em where they ain't or where they ain't get to 'em without an airship. One of these may be the Ty Cobb of the Babe Ruth of 1935. And then again there may be no Ty Cobb or Babe Ruth for another 40 years.

ALL MANAGERS IN BIG LEAGUES ARE CONFIDENT

Connie Mack and Joe McCarthy Believe Their Clubs Will Repeat.

By the Associated Press.

Although the reaction in some places will be different later on, there is not a down-hearted manager in either major league as the baseball season opens. Not all the leaders of the clubs think they have a chance to win, but hope during eternal before the home-hits begin to rattle in earnest and, with an exception here and there, the pilots expect their clubs to do better than was the case last season. The champions, of course, cannot improve their positions, but they expect to be as good as they were.

Connie Mack has declined to make a forecast for the Athletics, but he believes his great team will repeat. Joe McCarthy, with reservations, picks the Cubs to lead the pack again.

The managers speak in the AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Connie Mack, Athletics—"The Athletics are not claiming a pennant because we realize every team has strengthened and we look forward to a close race."
Stanley Harris, Tigers—"It would be foolish to claim a championship for no sane man can discount the strength of the Athletics and Yankees, but I believe Detroit will be in the race. We are much better than we were at this time last season."

Roger Peckinpaugh, Indians—"We may have been lucky to finish third last year as some say, but we have a good ball club, and I am hopeful we can cause a great deal of trouble for the other clubs."

Bill Killifer, Browns—"It is true that we haven't as much punch as I would like to see, but we have good pitchers and a lot of hustling young players. We should do well."
Donie Bush, White Sox—"No one in question the fact that the White Sox are a stronger club. Hitting, of course, will decide our place at the finish, but at any rate we shape up better than seventh."

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Joe McCarthy, Cubs—"Additional strength leads me to believe the Cubs will repeat and barring accidents and breaks that are unforeseen, the Cubs will come down to the finish a winner."

Jewel Ems, Pirates—"I see every reason for being optimistic and with a fine array of hitters combined with youth and speed, the Pittsburgh team ought to be two steps ahead of the pack, provided our players do not meet with too many injuries."

John J. McGraw, Giants—"We are cheerful as we prepare to open the season. Marshall will prove a second baseman for us and the improvement in Ott's play is one of the most striking things I have seen in baseball."

Gabby Street, Cardinals—"I am not saying that we will win the pennant, but we have a good team and will figure in the race. I expect to see our pitchers do some great work."

Burt Shotton, Phillies—"I expect my club to finish in the first division, and if we don't get up there, the second division will be much stronger than I expect it to be."

Wilbert Robinson, Robins—"Brooklyn has been tremendously improved over last year's club, and I will be very much surprised and disappointed if we are not in the thick of the fight. Our infielders are well and we have added much strength."

Dan Howley, Reds—"The Reds are quite a bit stronger than last year, but we all look forward to a real try for the first division. Given good pitching we will surprise the fans of Cincinnati."

Bill McKechnie, Braves—"We will have to feel our way along for a while, but we have started the rebuilding program, and we may be able to show some immediate results."

Jim Watts, Lucas Mix Here Tonight

Atlanta Featherweight Faces Tough Foe; Bud Clark, K. O. Smith Meet In Ten Rounds.

Jimmy Watts, Atlanta-bred, fights before a home town audience for the first time tonight at the Atlanta theater, when he meets Joe Lucas, Detroit slugging featherweight, in the feature bout of a card sponsored by Eddie Hanlon.

Watts and Lucas wound up training for the bout Monday afternoon with light workouts at Roby's gymnasium. Lucas came to town Monday morning and spent the afternoon adding finishing touches for the fight. Watts has been here for a week and will open the fight at 8:30 o'clock in a six-round battle.

Hanlon said Monday night that sale of tickets had been very satisfactory and that he was certain the theater tonight would be packed. Watts has a number of friends in Atlanta who are anxious to see him perform. He has been going about the country for many years knocking over the best men in his class. He always registered from Atlanta, but has never fought here. Considerable interest has been aroused among local fans who will turn out tonight to see what he can do.

Watts is said to be in line for a championship bout with Battling Battalino, but before he can get it he must score a decisive victory over Lucas tonight.

In the other 10-round affair Casey Jones, popular Atlanta welterweight, is signed to take on Ike Clifton, another fellow from LaGrange. Casey Jones has been fighting around Atlanta for a year or more, impressing the fans with his punching, boxing-in style. He carries a very stiff wallop and has disposed of several opponents here by knockouts.

BULLDOGS WIN PRACTICE GAME FROM RATS, 10-2

Georgians Open Series With Michigan at Athens Wednesday.

ATHENS, Ga., April 14.—The University of Georgia baseball team this afternoon began preparations for a busy week by trouncing the freshmen nine, 10 to 2, in a seven inning practice game at Sanford field.

The Bulldogs will get a chance or rather two chances to retaliate for four stinging defeats suffered during the past two years when the University of Michigan Wolverines play a two-game series here Wednesday and Thursday. The Wolverines have been coming to Athens for years now, and in 1928 and 1929 the lads from Michigan romped away with the Georgia boys. Michigan is bringing another fine ball club and the Bulldogs will be forced to play real baseball if they win the series or break even.

And the week-end program will be still another nightmare for the Georgia team. Alabama's Crimson Tide will play here Friday and Saturday and the Bulldogs will have to play minus the moral support of several hundred Georgia rooters, since all the students except the members of the baseball and track teams will be away for the spring holidays. Alabama will be the third conference team that Georgia has met this season. The Bulldogs have won two conference games.

Gar Wood Changes Course for His Dash

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 14.—Gar Wood's attempt to establish a 100-mile an hour world's record speed boats probably will be made in the Indian Creek course over which he established a world's record of 123 miles an hour last year, he said today.

The water racing enthusiast said he had received official sanction to run the speed test in Indian Creek instead of the course that was laid out in Biscayne bay. This step was taken, he said, because of a two-week delay in the trials due to inclement weather and water conditions. He believed that suitable conditions would prevail over the Indian Creek course more quickly than on the measured course in Biscayne bay.

W said that the speed test with his American VIII will be made as soon as possible.

Speed Trial Sanction Withdrawn, Kaye Don To Sail Wednesday

BRITISH RACER PLANS ATTEMPT NEXT DECEMBER

Fickle Beach Blamed as Pilot Quits After Long Wait.

By Edward J. Neil,

NEW YORK, April 14.—(AP)—Kaye Don's first attempt to smash the world automobile speed mark on the sands of Daytona Beach is over but the dapper little Englishman with the bristly blonde mustache will be back again for another go at it next year.

It has been anything but a pleasant expedition for the debonair king of Britain's amateur tracks who set forth like a schoolboy on a holiday two months ago to crack Sir Henry Segrave's mark of 231 miles an hour in the massive Silver Bullet built especially for him by the Sunbeam Motors of England. Twenty-two times Don battled a set of coughing motors and the unusually rough Daytona Beach sands without coming closer to the record than a mediocre 188 miles an hour.

SANCTION WITHDRAWN.

The latest of the speed attempts that have already cost two crack American pilots their lives ended officially today with the American Automobile Association's withdrawal of sanction for further tests due to unfavorable weather conditions at Daytona Beach. The official communique was superfluous, however, for Don already had abandoned the venture and was in New York preparing to sail for England Wednesday. His giant silver mount was being crated in Florida for shipment abroad.

Don would say little directly about the failure of his juggernaut to justify the confidence both of himself and Louis Costelan, designer and general manager of Sunbeam, that it could travel from 250 to 260 miles an hour. Both Don and Costelan, the latter through his secretary, denied there had been any friction between driver and designer despite persistent reports that Don was not satisfied with the car nor Costelan with the pilot.

BRITISHER UPSET.
The slender Englishman appeared perturbed only at reports from Chattanooga, Tenn., that "Cannonball" Baker, American driver, would compete with Costelan and others in regard to driving the Silver Bullet in another record test. Don declared he had paid $50,000 for the driving rights of the car, valued at $150,000, for three years and that no one could even sit in it, let alone drive it, without his approval.

Don blamed the lumpiness of the beach at Daytona for the failure to approach the record. He said he was able to open the throttle full only once, and then for just a short stretch. He plans no conference with Costelan before sailing Wednesday.

frays from Auburn, one from North Carolina and lost one to the Tarheels.

The regulars reached Lefty Carriers, Bulldog pitching star of last season, and Culbreath, frosh hurler, for 11 hits, two of them doubles, during the seven-inning game. Catfish Smith and Bennie-the-Great Rothstein hit doubles, and Roy Day, Cliff McLaughlin, Porter Frye, Tom Paris and Carter Tate also hit safely for the regulars. Brick Davenport got three hits in four trips to the plate.

Carriers, with a double, Leroy Young, with another double and Ben Hilburn, regular left fielder playing with the frosh, with two hits credited to him, were the batting stars for the rats. Porter Frye, elongated Bulldog hurler, held the freshmen team well in check during the afternoon. Paul Caswell relieved Frye on the mound in the fourth inning. Captain Harry Gorman, the catching ace of the Bulldogs, is on the bench temporarily, due to a slight injury to his leg and to a sore arm. He will probably be out of the Michigan series, but is expected to be ready for service against Alabama.

Wear Schoonover Plays In Movies

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., April 14.—(AP)—Wear Schoonover, University of Arkansas athletic satellite, has left here for Hollywood, Cal., to take part in the making of a moving picture featuring a 1929 All-American football selection.

The Arkansas obtained a leave of absence from the university and will return in time to graduate in June.

On the eve of his departure Schoonover further ennobled himself in the University of Arkansas hall of athletic fame by winning first place in the broad jump in a dual track meet, assuring him a track number and making him one of the two living four-letter men of the university. Only four athletes in the history of the school have made four numerals.

MAJOR LEAGUE RACES APPEAR TO BE CLOSER

When President Hoover joined the crowd watching Boston's Red Sox take measure of the Washington Senators.

AT BOSTON TODAY.

These same two teams jump overnight to Boston for another inaugural, while the rest of the American league clubs open with a few York at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Detroit, Cleveland at Chicago.

In the National league, the champion Chicago Cubs start their campaign at St. Louis, while Boston plays at New York, Philadelphia at Brooklyn and Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.

250,000 FANS.

If the weather's favorable attitude continued uninterrupted the prospects were that approximately 250,000 spectators would witness the eight games. The National league opener was expected to contribute most of this total, around 133,000, with at least 115,000 more fans crowding their way into American league parks.

The biggest crowd of the day seemed likely at Detroit, with 40,000 or upwards expected to take advantage of ideal weather to jam Navin field and see Bucky Harris' 1930 edition of the Tigers play the St. Louis Browns.

GIANTS ATTENDANCE.

The New York Giants estimated 40,000 would witness their getaway at the Polo Grounds against the Boston Braves.

Crowds of 30,000 to 35,000 were predicted for the openers at Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago, where the White Sox opened against Cleveland, was to be seized as a means of paying tribute to the new manager, Donie Bush. Donie's friends planned to give him a good silver and voice the hope that all the pleasant things said this spring about the Sox come true.

Not to forget their champions, however, 5,000 other Chicago fans formed for a March upon St. Louis to cheer Manager Joe McCarthy's Cubs. To stimulate this pilgrimage, Dr. Louis Eastman, who did the team a good turn by curing Catcher Gabby Hartnett's arm, hired a special train for his own delegation of Cub rosters, all hoping to see the Bruins break their habit of being opening day losers.

MACKS PRIMED.

The world's champion Athletics, barring a last-minute contract hitch with their great outfielder, Al Simmons, were primed for rousing get-away on home grounds against the arch-rivals, the New York Yankees. Robert Moses, Grove, the southpaw ace of the A's, was the choice to send the champions away where they left off last October—as winner. The expensive cast led by Babe Ruth and managed for the first time by Bob Shavlik, the count upon the good right arm of George Piparas to match anything Grove could produce in speed or curves.

Nothing in the last few frenzied days of "doping" the pennant races has upset the general expectations that the Athletics and Cubs will repeat their conquests of 1929 and meet again in the world's series next fall.

Connie Mack's Athletics went to the post as even-money proposition against the field while the Cubs were rated by Wall Street as 7-to-5 favorites.

AMERICAN THREATS.

New York, Cleveland and Detroit, possibly along with St. Louis, were rated as the principal American league threats, in that order, while Pittsburgh and New York remained the choice of most critics to give the Cubs plenty of trouble.

Two clubs, however, in the National league—Brooklyn and Philadelphia—were apart from the arguments over the relative powers of rival teams, prepared to turn out for an inspection of their favorites—old as well as new. Every team in either league has a good material to present for the vital tests. Several, such as the Giants, Braves, Robins, Yankees, Tigers and Reds, presented radically altered lineups for the 1930 campaign.

For the opening day, at least, newcomers such as Chapman, Cooke, Jolley, Suhr, Berger, Marshall, Lopez and Funk shared the spotlight with such hardy veterans as Ruth and Hornsby, whose combined salary checks for this year reach a new high level of $120,000.

Artillerymen Win Benning Polo Cup

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 14.—(AP)—The hard riding artillery team won the championship of the Fort Benning senior polo loop Sunday by defeating the 29th infantry 9 to 6.

A crowd of 2,000 persons witnessed the game.

The second game between the Students and the Freebooters in the consolation match was won by the Students in a nip and tuck battle, 6 to 5. Brigadier General Campbell King, commandant of the infantry school, presented the championship trophy, a silver bowl, to the artillery riders at the close of the game. Individual trophies were presented each member of the championship team.

Relays Indicate New Dixie Marks

Track coaches and officials here look for a flock of new records to be established in later southern meets this year following the wholesale assault on the old marks in the eighth annual southern relays Saturday. Six new champions were crowned.

Indications are that Charlie Farmer, the North Carolina sophomore who stepped off the 100-yard dash in the record time of 9.8 seconds, and Ed Hamm, Georgia Tech's great broad-jumper, who leaped to a new meet mark of 24 feet 9 1/2 inches, may do even better in the Southern conference championship meet to be held in Birmingham in May.

Hamm's southern mark is more than a foot less than his best American college record. The Tech ace was out of competition last year, as close followers of the sport expect him to hurl himself through the air to a new mark during the spring season. Farmer also is looked upon as a threat to the American college record in the century event. He had little difficulty defeating the best sprinters in the south Saturday.

The North Carolina relay teams proved that they were the class of the meet by setting three new marks and finishing first in another event. The Chapel Hill runners stepped off the half-mile in 1:29.8 to beat the old mark of 1:32.1, and chalked up another mark for the boys to shoot at by negotiating the mile relay in 8:24.7.

Sandy Sanford, Georgia's high jumper, swung over the bar at 6 feet 3 1/2 inch to pass the old mark of 6 feet 1 1/2-inch set by Eubanks, of Oglethorpe, last year.

No team scores were compiled and only individual records counted. However, North Carolina romped off with five first places, Florida grabbed off four and Georgia Tech, Mississippi A. M., Tulane and Georgia had two each.

Tiger Outfielder Made Into Hurler

AUBURN, Ala., April 14.—Since no place could be found for him in the outfield with Captain Crawford, Paul Hodges and Alternating Captain Joe Burt grabbing flies in all directions and hitting within the "select circle," Ralph Jordan, fourth among Southern conference hardwood performers in scoring last season and captain-elect of Auburn's 1931 quintet, has been changed from a leading contender for an outfield berth on Auburn's 1930 baseball team to a pitcher with a bright future.

Jordan is a southpaw de luxe as he does all of his many athletic chores from the portside. He played with the yearlings at first and in the outer gardens last year, but decided to cast his lot only with the candidates for the pasture positions this season.

Because he is well fortified in the fly-chasing department, Coach Sheridan decided to try Jordan in the box. He lacks experience, but is improving fast under Coach Sheridan, a former major league pitching star. Unlike many southpaws, Jordan has control which will aid him in being a mound sensation.

Jordan is also being tried out at the initial sock as the Tiger mentor wants outstanding reserves for every position.

The first chance that Jordan will have to display his ability as a pitcher will be in the lone game with the Enterprise All-Stars, who will be played April 23 when the Orange and Blue nine makes its annual jaunt to Panama City, Fla., for the trio of games with the University of Florida, April 24, 25 and 26.

Sylvester Legion Slates Ring Card

STILVESTER, Ga., April 14.—(AP)—April 22 the local American Legion post will stage its initial boxing show.

On the above date they will sponsor one of the best cards that has yet been promoted in this vicinity and have made arrangements with N. S. Blizard, local heavyweight, who has been inactive for several seasons, to return to the ring once more. This announcement has aroused local interest to a high pitch. The crafty old ringman has been matched to swap punches with Joe Hall, Tallahassee, Fla., who came forward and offered to fight the old brawler and express confidence in being able to add another victim to his string, which includes many. This is expected to be a real scrap. Blizard expects to tip the beam at around even 200 pounds, while Hall will scale in at 185. They are scheduled to go 10 rounds.

In the semi-final Doc Kennedy, "Sylvester's own," will square off against "White" Webb, of Hahira, Ga. They are old foes, having met twice before, Kennedy losing one hair-line decision to Webb, the other resulting in a well-fought draw. The fans may well expect a thriller when these two ambitious youngsters meet. Both have expressed a desire to fight "winner-take-all" with a limit of eight rounds, except in case of a draw two additional rounds will be added.

Tech High Faces G. M. A. Today in Sixth Round of Prep Race

PURPLES MEET RUSSELL HIGH THIS AFTERNOON

Tuesday Schedule Calls for Four Games: Busy Week Ahead.

Four prep baseball games will be played this afternoon in the start of the busy week in the league. A postponed game is scheduled to be played Wednesday afternoon and G. M. A. has three postponed games to be played within the next two weeks, with four games ending the week on Friday afternoon.

In today's battles Tech High, leading the league with five victories, will play G. M. A. at College Park. The Cadets are in second place with two victories and one defeat. University will play Commercial at Kirkwood park. Fulton will play Decatur at Decatur and Russell will play Boys' High at Piedmont park.

G. M. A. has played only three games out of six playing dates. The first two games were postponed because of a government inspection. The Cadets got away to a late start due to spring football practice and only two workouts have been held in addition to the three games. The team has not been selected and Coach Burdage has been experimenting with the candidates. His pitching selection today will be Clark, the veteran right-hander and one of the best in the league.

Coach Tolbert will likely use Jack English in an attempt to enter the home stretch with six victories and no defeats. Tech High has played exceptionally good baseball in the field and the hitters have done their share of the work in winning five games.

Boys' High faces a tough week. The Hurricane will play Russell today, Decatur, Wednesday and G. M. A. on Friday. The Wednesday game was postponed from last Friday.

Marist in third place has an off day today and will play Decatur Friday in an important game. The victor will be assured of a first division berth in the first half of the league standing with a possibility of second place.

Coast Stars Costly.

The Yankees and White Sox each have former Coast league ball players on their teams who cost the clubs $200,000 or more. Chicago paid $125,000 for Kamm and $50,000 for Jolley, with Harris and Kerr costing about $20,000 each.

FRANCE FACES TENNIS CRISIS IN CUP DEFENSE

Rene Lacoste Is Out;
Henri Cochet Expected
Not To Play.

By William T. Tilden, 2d.

(Copyright, 1930, by The Constitution and the American Newspaper Alliance.)
CANNES, April 14.—(North American Newspaper Alliance.)—France is facing a crisis in the defense of the Davis cup this year. For the first time since the French lifted the cup in 1927, the odds are not in their favor. Even without Lacoste, I cannot see that they have better than an even chance in view of the developments of the last two months.

Up to a comparatively few weeks ago there was every indication that Rene Lacoste, the French champion, would be in condition to play this year. Unfortunately, he is not so well as he was believed and the last word is that he is not expected to play any tennis during 1930.

This is a great loss to France and to the game generally and his absence will be regretted by all tennis followers, but certainly it puts a new construction on the outlook in the championship. Even without Lacoste, France with Borotra, Cochet, Brugnon and Boususs, looks strong enough to successfully defend, but all is not serene.

ANOTHER LOSS.
There is a distinct possibility that Cochet may not play much if any tennis this year. There have been rumors all spring in France about differences between Cochet and the French tennis association.

I cannot say how much truth there is in these rumors. Some say that Cochet resents his being bracketed in the ranking with Lacoste in view of Lacoste having only played one event last year and Cochet carried me five all season. Personally I put no stock in this report.

Another story is that during his Japanese trip, Cochet wrote certain articles which did not please the powers that be and that he was reprimanded. He is also supposed to have aroused the ire of the French press and certain elements of the association in the matter of gate money during the trip. I do not know what is the truth, but this much I do know: Cochet did not play singles on the Riviera and he personally told me that he did not intend to play tennis this spring and might not play in the French championship or at Wimbledon.

GAME AFFECTED.
There is no doubt about Cochet being at loggerheads with tennis at the moment and what little tennis he played on the Riviera showed clearly his game was affected. Even Cochet cannot expect to play Davis cup tennis at his best if he gets no competition.

Jean Borotra seems to be the mainstay of the French team this year. He will be certain to rise to the occasion with his best, but will his best be good enough? His defeat in four sets at the hands of H. W. Austin, of England, would indicate that he is not playing too well.

Certainly, neither Brugnon nor Boususs can be counted on as a point winner in the Davis cup challenge round. Brugnon, except for his one fine set at Menton, when he beat Rogers and Coen, carried me five first sets, has had a most disastrous Riviera season.

Boususs' crushing defeat at the hands of Dr. Penn, of Germany, in the Monte Carlo tournament, may place him out of serious consideration.

COCHET RESPONSIBLE.
It seems to me that the whole question of defeat or victory rests on Cochet. If he will get back in the game, play through all the big events, he will be once more the Cochet of old and France will successfully defend. If, on the other hand, he decides to play only in the Davis cup tournament it would not surprise me to see him fail and France go down to defeat.

There is no question but what Pierre Gillou, guiding genius of the French team, is worried. He admits that Lacoste is out of the question and that the Cochet problem is serious. He is also quite at sea for a doctor's team. Cochet and Borotra are not in the picture this year. Gillou has definitely given up all idea of playing them together. I believe he had about made up his mind to use Lacoste-Borotra until Lacoste's continued illness forced him to change his plans.

The natural selection seems to be Cochet-Borotra, but their defeat by Austin and Kingsley in the Butler trophy at Monte Carlo coupled with Brugnon's lack of ability to find his game, makes it appear that they will not do. During the Monte Carlo tournament Brugnon and Boususs were tried out, but they were beaten in the first round by Rogers and Abe, thus giving Gillou still more to think about. It seems to me that the most logical team would be Borotra-Brugnon. This combination will force Borotra to play three full days, a thing that neither he nor Gillou wants. There is one other combination that looks likely, Boususs and De Buzet. However, their defeat by Junior Coen and myself in the fifth set at Monte Carlo in the Butler trophy shook the confidence of the French.

All in all the doubles are a pretty problem and one not easy to solve. The outstanding feature of the Riviera season and the early spring is the definite signs of the passing of the French supremacy. It may not come this year or even next, but the handwriting is on the wall just as clearly as it showed in the United States for several years before we succumbed to the French attack.

There is no question but what it is coming. The great team of Lacoste, Cochet, Borotra and Brugnon is breaking up. It no longer presents the unbroken front of two years ago. The young French stars, good as they are, are not developing as fast as expected. Boususs and De Buzet are not ready to step in and fill the gaps that are opening.

ITALY DANGEROUS.
What nation will take the position of champion is hard to say. Certainly England, with Austin and Lee, is making great strides toward the top. Japan looks definitely to be on the upgrade; her whole national style is improving in the play of her youngsters. Italy is truly dangerous. Australia is the dark horse that may burst out a winner. Her young team is yet unknown, but there is no doubt about her potential strength.

The United States has worlds of material to draw from and should regain her position as champion nation. The nucleus of a fine team is found in George Lott, John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, backed up by such players as Doeg, Coen, Mercier, Bell, Mangin and a host of others.

One cannot prophesy, but one can guess that France will lose the Davis cup within three years and either the United States, England or Australia will win it.

GOOD GOLF

Getting the club slightly ahead of everything else in the forward swing is one of the highly desirable details to master, and it is easily mastered. All that is necessary is that you get your arms, and consequently your hands (and the club) started from the top first. To do that you keep your body in its position until you "take off" with the club. From then on the body follows after, but the club, being away first, and not being retarded by any pulling or lagging at it, will accelerate quickly. It will now go like lightning because it is free—and is leading the swing, as it should. To pace it you have only to swing your arms, with a windmill-like effect, the speed of the club depending entirely on the speed of the swinging action of your arms, although it must be kept in mind that the club must now be so swung that it keeps in front. You sense it as being just an inch or so ahead all the time—and traveling so fast it will test you to keep up with it and still keep smooth. Obviously no such action as this will be possible unless the turn from back to forward is made with velvet-like smoothness. Take your time.

(Little golfing progress can be attained until basic form rules are applied. One of these has to do with grips. Without this fundamental grip principle the club cannot be stroked, but will always be swung as a direct hit at the ball. Mr. Horton has put effective grip coaching into printed form, and this will be mailed you, free, if you wish it. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ed Danforth, sports editor, The Constitution, asking for Mr. Horton's monograph on grips and stances.)

Southern Scorers, Umpires Announced

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 14.—John D. Martin, president of the Southern Association, today announced the following umpire assignments for opening games tomorrow.

Little Rock at Memphis—Bill Brennan and John Quinn.
Atlanta at Chattanooga—Harry Johnson and Buck Campbell.
Birmingham at Nashville—Madley Williams and E. L. Goss.
Mobile at New Orleans—Jim Scott and Spike Shannon.

President Martin will witness tomorrow's game at Chattanooga. Wednesday he will be at Mobile, Thursday at Atlanta and Friday at Birmingham.

President Martin also announced appointment of the following official scorers, selected by the various club presidents:
Ed Danforth, Atlanta Constitution.
Bill McGee, Keefe, New Orleans Times-Picayune.
Taylor Stone, Memphis Press-Scimitar.
Freddie Russell, Nashville Banner.
Bill Clift, Chattanooga Times.
Tip Newman, Birmingham News.
G. J. Flournoy, Mobile Register.
Henry Leach, Arkansas Gazette, Little Rock, Ark.

Third base is open, but Horner mounds are expecting Harry Daugherty to be returned from Memphis. In event he isn't Frank Packard, ex-Columbia Corner, will get the hot corner position. Will Mariotte is the main choice for short and Fred Partridge, Joe Whitlock, Spencer Reynolds and Wally Hamburg are in a race for the midway place where the team has been woefully weak in batting. Skin Griffin formerly held down the job, but the long contemplated trade sent him to Augusta several weeks back.

Hoblitzell is working with Oscar Kress, a southpaw, who is expected to relieve the manager at first base. Ray Wise is due to be back in left and Abie Hood in right field. The great pitching staff of 1929, which lost only Earle Brown, now with Mobile of the Southern association, is made up of Larry Boerner, Therman Wical, Hank Hewbury, Ted Veach and George Petty.

CHARLOTTE GETS TEAM OF YOUTHS

Bees About Set for Season, Great Pitching Comes Back.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 14.—(AP)—Dick Hoblitzell has collared a swanky layout of youngsters and with his mixing paddle has stirred in with his veterans into what is being called a swell swarm of Bees.

The Charlotte club is taking form. Holes are to be plugged only once in the box, in centered in second base and in the second choice catcher's position. Tom Young has been conceded the former position, with Van Mungo, Dick Wells, Jack Coffee, Elbert Padgett, Jinx Harris, Paul Peachuck, Sam Presley and Tom Smith seeking the pitching berth. Ginger Watts, Luther Whitlock and Eddie Scholls are battling for the job as Roy Luebe's aid behind the pan.

T. H. S. Battlers In Final Round

Semi-finals in the first annual interschool boxing tournament at Tech High were completed Monday afternoon on the Henry Grady basketball court with five matches on the program. The boxers will meet for the school championship in each division Wednesday afternoon.

Three of the Monday scraps were unusually good. Cheston, who injured a thumb in his first match, defeated Quarry after four rounds of hard fighting.

Hilly knocked out Manning in the second round to score his third knock-out of the tourney. A hard right and a left jab sent Manning down for the count of 8 twice in the first round. He went down for several short counts early in the second before the end. Knight added another preliminary knockout to his credit when Lively took the count in the second round.

Polli Released.

ARREST OF GANDHI IS EXPECTED HOURLY

Bombay Situation Grows Tense Following Imprisonment of Nationalists.

BOMBAY, April 14.—(AP)—Arrest and imprisonment of two prominent Indian nationalist leaders today marked the civil disobedience campaign of Mahatma Gandhi. The general situation is growing more serious and the next development expected is the arrest of Gandhi himself, although the authorities thus far have been erasing this step.

The handi Javaharlal Mehta, president of the All-India Congress, today was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for violation of the salt law, and J. M. K. P. Gupta, mayor of Calcutta and president of the Bengal civil disobedience committee, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment on charges of sedition, conspiracy and obstructing the police.

Large crowds surrounded the court at Naini, where Mehta was tried, the sympathizers waving flags. Members of the Bombay Congress committee immediately decided to observe a day of mourning and the nationalist "war council" decided to send out 500 volunteers as salesmen of contraband salt.

Five other arrests were made here today for violation of the salt law.

After the conviction of Sen Gupta at Calcutta the police commissioner prohibited all public meetings and processions without licenses. Three meetings of nationalists were dispersed.

As a preliminary to the picketing of liquor shops at Bhimad tomorrow 30 women volunteers marched through the village today carrying a banner against alcoholic drinks. The marchers approached one liquor shop and implored the men and women patrons to drink the blood of the volunteers rather than liquor. One woman in the shop threw away her drink but the men placidly drained their glasses.

The leader of the battle against the government salt tax, Gandhi himself, will go to Umber tomorrow for a mass meeting.

FARM BOARD HEADS FAVOR VINSON BILL

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(P)—Government regulation of cotton futures exchanges was advocated today by two members of the federal farm board as the senate passed a measure providing for an investigation of the decline of cotton prices for the last four years.

Regulation was proposed by Chairman Legge and Carl Williams, member of the board representing cotton, as a means of partially relieving the ailments of the cotton farmer.

In a letter to Chairman McNary of the senate agriculture committee, Legge said that "decided improvement in the present system could be accomplished if the exchanges were placed under proper supervision and control of the department of agriculture."

The department, he added, should have power to intervene whenever the secretary of agriculture "finds" any operations in the farm commodity futures market are antagonistic to the best interests of producers or consumers, or both.

The proposal by Williams was contained in a letter he wrote to Representative Vinson, democrat, Georgia, which was made public today as the house agriculture committee opened hearings on the Georgia measure to place cotton exchanges under federal regulation. Mr. Vinson's bill would regulate future trading in grain, oilseed and other commodities, "without publicity concerning the operation of specific traders, including statement of their position and the volume of their trades."

Daily reports, Williams added, should be required from clearing houses and from every brokerage concern which handles futures transactions so that the secretary of agriculture would be "completely informed with respect to any speculative manipulation or other operation which might prove to be against the public interest."

The Sheppard bill, which was passed by the senate and sent to the house, would request the secretary of agriculture to investigate the cause of the decline in cotton prices from 1926 to 1929, inclusive.

The investigation would ascertain the amount of cotton futures sold, the amount of short selling, who did the short selling. The effect it had on prices and "any further information which will enable the farmers to know the true state of conditions and the parties responsible for the decline."

Bids on Mayflower Refused by Officials

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(P)—The navy department again today rejected all bids for sale of the Mayflower, formerly the president's yacht. The highest was from the Order of Herman, a sports club of Easton, Pa. The club offered $80,000 but failed to meet the requirement of enclosing a certified check.

John W. Hubbard, of Pittsburgh, bid $35,000 and the Boston Iron & Metal Company, of Baltimore, $15,600. The navy department will decide later whether to call for new bids.

R. K. Ragland Dies At Hopewell, Va.

R. K. Ragland, 59, of Talbotton, widely known here and throughout the south as southern representative of an Easton, Pa., slate concern, died Monday in Hopewell, Va., while on a visit to relatives there. Though Mr. Ragland was a native of Talbotton and had lived there practically all of his life, he maintained his company's headquarters here and traveled out of Atlanta for many years.

The body of Mr. Ragland was sent here from Hopewell Monday night, and funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at Talbotton, with burial in the churchyard there.

STUDENT, PROFESSORS ENJOINED IN STRIKE

Chancery Court Restrains Five From Agitating Students.

HARROGATE, Tenn., April 14.—(P)—An injunction forbidding all to students on strike at Lincoln Memorial University was issued today and served upon two discharged professors, their wives and the strike leader.

Granted this morning by Chancellor J. H. Wallace, at Tazewell, it named Professors M. G. Miller and E. Van Housen, Clay McCarroll, expelled president of the student body, and the professors' wives.

J. R. Ketron, attorney and university trustee, said they would violate it by advising or directing the strikers, or in any other manner doing anything which authorities might construe as hindering operation of the university.

It was the second court action against McCarroll. He is under $1,500 bond for hearing Saturday on charges of rioting and misconduct.

Seemingly undismayed by the legal proceedings and by a renewed warning that suspension would follow further "rebellion," the students continued their activities unabated. They declared that less than 50 of about 415 attended classes.

McCarroll had retained John R. Neal, Knoxville attorney, who expected to be in Harrogate tomorrow to file answers to the injunction and to evict notices.

In a statement today Professor Diller said neither he nor his wife had incited the strike, although, he added, he was "in sympathy with its basic principles."

These principles, he said, involved "abuse of power" by university authorities. He declared that because of a money shortage, he had worked without salary last year and for reduced pay this year. He said his contract had been terminated a year in advance.

The next in the series of court actions comes tomorrow with the hearing of Ernest Fields, senior student, who was arrested Saturday with McCarroll. He has been free on his own recognizance.

A negro, thought to be fatally wounded, was at Grady hospital late Monday night with a bullet wound in the head and a second in the abdomen, received from a police pistol in the hands of Patrolman R. C. McGill, when officers investigated an altercation in which a negro is said to have been wounded.

The negro gave his name as L. D. Fanning, of 550 Larkin street, in front of which house the shooting took place. According to police reports, Officer McGill and his partner, T. H. Leathers, were "pulling" police signal box No. 18 when they heard shots and an outcry on Larkin street.

They investigated, and as they approached the scene, according to the officers, Fanning pulled out a pistol. Officer McGill shooting him before he could bring the weapon into play.
